Syrian Aggression Charged By Jordan

Air Interception Of King's Plane Headed For U.N.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Premier Samir Rifai told a cheering emergency session of Parliament Tuesday night Jordan will accuse Syria of an act of aggression for intercepting King Hussein's vacation-bound plane.

Thunderous applause greeted his announcement that the government would bring the case before the U.N. Security Council and would ask Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to take quick measures for a debate.

Parliament then unanimously adopted a resolution giving the government a free hand to take any action necessary.

Rifai spoke as the country went on a spree of celebration.

Hussein National Hero

A national holiday was declared to celebrate the adventurous King's escape from what he charged was an attempt to kidnap or kill him in a flight over Syria Monday.

Hussein, who celebrates his 24th birthday Friday, emerged as a daring Moslem hero for defying the Syrian MIG fighters and making a successful getaway.

Some officials suggested President Nasser's United Arab Republic—of which Syria is a province—attempted to kidnap the pro-Western King and force him to abdicate in favor of a regime friendly to the U.A.R.

There were clear indications that if this was the plot—and the U.A.R. denies any such plot—that it backfired. The young monarch gained popular support for his determined stand of independence from Nasserism.

Jordan Gets British Jets

While Jordanians celebrated in a carnival spirit mixed with bitter demonstrations against Syria, two new British jet fighters flew into Amman.

They are the first of 12 Hawker Hunters being given Jordan under the U.S.-British military aid program.

The pilots said they came in via Cairo, the U.A.R. capital, rather than over fly Syria.

An official said the other 10 are due to be delivered on Hussein's birthday—the day he had intended spending with his family in Switzerland until the Syrian MIGs chased him back home two hours after his departure for Europe.

Trio Charged With $162,000 Safecracking

BALTIMORE (AP) — State Police said Tuesday night three men have been arrested and charged with a $162,000 safecracking at Wingate, Md., last Saturday.

The men were being held at the Easton Barracks for further interrogation, and Dorchester County States Attorney C. Burnam Mace set bond at $100,000 each.

Those held were identified as Stephano Glaros, 32, alias Steve the Greek, of Harundale; Eugene Benjamin Hurley, 32, of Baltimore, and Rufus William Ruark, 30, of Cambridge.

Capt. George E. Davidson, head of the investigation and identification division of State Police headquarters at suburban Pikesville, announced the arrest.

He said warrants had been issued charging the trio with grand larceny and that a woman was being questioned Tuesday night.

None of the loot taken in the theft at a small general store has been recovered, Capt. Davidson said, adding, "We are currently working on that angle."

In addition to $159,000 in cash, George O. Powley told authorities the yeggs stole three $1,000 bonds.

Powler, 51, operated a seafood packing business in addition to his general store at Wingate, on Maryland's lower Eastern Shore.

He told authorities he kept the money in his safe because he had lost out when banks closed during the depression some 30 years ago.

The FBI and Dorchester County sheriff's office cooperated with the State Police in a widespread investigation after Powley told of finding the front door of the store and the safe battered in when he went to work Saturday.

Passengers From Seized Plane Freed

31, Including Six Crewmen, Turned Over To Red Cross

HAVANA (AP)—The rebel high command announced Tuesday night it has released 25 passengers and 6 crewmen from two Cubana airliners hijacked in the air Oct. 21 and Nov. 5.

One, presumably the pilot who resisted the rebels' seizure in flight Oct. 21, was reported seriously wounded. With him were two other crewmen. The 11 passengers aboard the plane had been freed previously.

Earlier reports had said the pilot was shot when he tried to resist orders to land on a rebel air strip.

The rebels said all 31 persons were turned over to Red Cross representatives in eastern Cuba and that they arrived safely in Santiago.

Truce Violation Charged

The rebel announcement said the release was carried out despite a government breach of good faith during a cease-fire arranged for safe return of the captives.

The rebels said bad faith occurred when a Cuban navy plane flew low over the place agreed on for transfer of the captives.

The insurgents claimed the navy plane and pilot were intercepted and captured. There was no explanation of how such a capture might have taken place.

The rebel tactic in seizing three Cubana airliners recently has been to overpower the crew in the air. The third airliner crashed Nov. 1 in Nipe Bay, killing 17 persons including six American citizens.

A 30-hour cease-fire was announced Sunday by the rebel high command for the Santiago area for releasing plane occupants to Red Cross representatives. The cease-fire was to last until 6 p.m. Tuesday.

One American Aboard

Passengers aboard the plane seized Nov. 5 included one American, U.S. Navy Airman Robert M. Montgomery of Miami, Fla. Another was Amado Cantillo, son of the Cuban army commander in the Santiago district.

Raul Castro, brother of rebel chief Fidel Castro, said in a broadcast the insurgents expected an explanation from the government of the alleged cease-fire violation by the navy plane. He said no more transfers of prisoners would be made until such a statement was received.

The rebels say they have about 200 army prisoners they want to turn over to the Red Cross. Some of them were said to be wounded in recent clashes in Oriente Province.

Power Of Dixie Congress Bloc Faces Dilution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southerners will keep their grip on most of the top positions in the new 86th Congress but their legislative power seems certain to be challenged sharply.

Legislators from Southern states —all Democrats—will have 13 of the 19 highest seniority positions in the Senate and 15 of the leading 23 in the House. This is about the same proportion as in recent congresses.

They also will retain 9 of the 16 chairmanships of Senate standing committees and 12 of the 19 in the House.

It is in the committees, which handle the first steps in the law-making process, that conservative Southerners often have exercised great influence.

And it is in the committees where the power of these veterans is apt to be diluted in the 1959 and 1960 sessions.

In the 85th Congress, Democrats had a margin of only one vote on each Senate committee and two to seven on most House committes.

Particularly in the Senate, this meant that one Southern conservative, by siding with Republicans, could block a bill or get it considerably modified. A small group of Southerners could do the same in the House.

In the 86th, the situation will be much different. Democrats will have a five-vote edge on some Senate committees, three on others. In the House their margins will soar to 10 or a dozen.

Thus the Southerner frequently will find his vote not nearly so significant as in recent sessions. The power of the committee chairman will remain, however; he can shape the course of hearings and delay action on bills, but has only one vote when the showdown comes.

Once a bill gets to the floor, Southerners will find they speak with a much smaller voice in the new Congress.

Demo Liberals Back Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) said Tuesday he and other senators he classifies as liberal will support strongly the legislative program laid down by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Proxmire was a chief target of campaign attacks by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon on those they called Democratic radicals.

The senator said he and most of his colleagues who share his political philosophy are satisfied with Johnson's leadership.

In the past, some of these have complained that Johnson has followed a course too near the middle of the road to suit them. There has been speculation the Texas senator would face demands from this group—greatly augmented in the Nov. 4 election—for a stronger voice in shaping party policy.

Proxmire said he has found no indications of dissatisfaction with Johnson's course.

West Forfeits Berlin Rights, Reds Declare

BERLIN (UPI) — East German Deputy Premier Hans Loch Tuesday night opened a top - level Communist campaign to drive the Western Allies out of "our Berlin" by charging they have forfeited their rights to remain in the divided city.

Egged on by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, the East German Reds sought to bring the American, British and French sectors of the city under their control on grounds that the Western Allies have violated the terms of the 1945 Potsdam Pact which established occupation rule.

Loch, in a speech at Lehnitz outside Berlin, said the Western powers broke the Potsdam agreement and thus no longer have rights in Berlin. He said they had violated the pledges of democratization, demilitarization and de-Nazification of Germany.

"A treaty that is not fulfilled loses its basis and is annulled," he said.

"This also is true for the special arrangements arising from the treaty.

"This means the treaty breakers must get out of our Berlin."

Details of the speech were broadcast by the East German ADN news service.

At the same time, West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt assured his people that they could rely on the West's security guarantees for the three free sectors of the city.

There was concern in the American, British and French sectors over the possibility of a total blockade of the Western outpost which lies 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain in Communist East Germany.

The East German Communists took their cue from Khrushchev who called Berlin "the capital of East Germany", to denounce as unbearable and abnormal the occupation of the Western powers. They charged that the Western allies destroyed the legal basis of their occupation and virtually told them to get out.

Khrushchev hinted on Monday that Russia would turn over its occupation functions in East Berlin to the Reds, thus abrogating the four-power agreements governing the divided ci'

Russia, Poland Call For Summit Parley

MOSCOW (AP)—A new call for a summit conference was sounded Tuesday night by the Soviet Union and Poland.

They said its aim would be to solve problems of disarmament and strengthen world security.

(Moscow radio announced meanwhile that the Soviet Union told the United States in a note that the Geneva talks on prevention of surprise attacks must be linked to disarmament.)

A joint communique was issued here and in Warsaw after the windup of Moscow talks between Premier Khrushchev and Polish Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka.

It said: "The delegation of the Polish People's Republic decidedly supports the Soviet proposal for a summit conference to examine and solve the most pressing problems of disarmament and to decide on steps to be taken to strengthen the security of Europe and the rest of the world."

In addition to making a bid for summit talks, the communique said it is necessary to strengthen the Warsaw Pact, the East European alliance set up as a counterbalance to NATO. Such action is necessary, the statement said, because of "delaying and dodging talks pursued in the first place by the U.S. government." It did not say what steps might be taken to strengthen the Warsaw lineup.

It declared the North Atlantic Treaty Organization seeks to turn Western Europe into a "nuclear arms arsenal."

The communique said the Soviet Union and Poland demand an immediate end to atomic weapons tests as the most important task of the great powers.

In Washington, the State Department spokesman said there would be no comment Tuesday night on the summit proposal.

Soviets Rebuff Joint Approach To Space Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States Tuesday opened its campaign to round up broad support for a projected U.N. commission on peaceful use of outer space. But the cold war apparently threatens space as it does the earth.

Rival U.S. and Soviet proposals will come before the 81-nation Political Committee when the U.N. plunges Wednesday into history's first full-scale debate on space. The Soviet Union has brushed aside a U.S. attempt to knit together a joint approach on the issue, a U.S. spokesman disclosed.

He said the Soviet Union was given a chance to see the U.S. proposal and invited to make comments upon it. But the Russians came out with their own resolution, and told the United States it preferred to hear U.N. debate before commenting on possibilities of East-West cooperation.

The Soviet Union asked the U.N. to approve both a ban on use of space for military purposes and elimination of foreign military bases on territories of other states, particularly Europe, the Middle East and Africa. All this would be under international control within the framework of the United Nations.

The United States views this as an attempt to inject a cold war issue into discussions of outer space. A U.S. spokesman expressed concern about the possibility that outer space would be linked to disarmament and thus imperil chances for agreement right from the outset of the debate.

The United States hopes to put in its formal resolution Wednesday. Cosponsors already include Britain, Ireland, Canada and Japan.

White-Collar Strike Closes Chrysler Plants

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. 8,000 unionized office workers and engineers walked out Tuesday to support contract demands, and quickly forced shutdowns of eight plants employing 16,400 production workers.

Chrysler said the strike could spread to a full shutdown of its auto operations.

The United Auto Workers Union, which represents strikers and production workers, ordered white-collar pickets off lines at shift-changing time. Thus UAW members would not violate a policy against crossing picket lines of fellow unionists.

Chrysler and the UAW five weeks ago reached new three-year pact covering the firm's 70,000 production workers. Left unsettled were terms covering those who struck Tuesday.

The first eight shutdowns all stemmed from refusal to cross picket lines.

Drivers shuttling new cars from assembly lines to shipping yards, or drivers bringing bodies or parts to assembly plants, wouldn't go through the pickets lines. In one instance, workers who went out for lunch wouldn't go back.

Six of the first plants shut were in the Detroit area. The other two were the Plymouth assembly and body plants at Evansville, Ind.

Debris Spotted In Plane Search

LISBON (UPI)—A British search plane Tuesday sighted wreckage in the Atlantic in the area where a Portuguese flying boat vanished two days ago with 36 persons aboard, including six Americans. There was little hope for survivors.

A Portuguese patrol boat was steaming to the area through choppy seas. The plane radioed it saw wreckage at a point about 35 to 40 miles southwest of the spot where the PBM flying boat radioed it was making an emergency landing Sunday on a flight from Lisbon to the island of Madeira.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman at Kenitra, Morocco, home base for Air Force planes which joined the search, said the chances of finding the plane or survivors were "awfully slim" because of the rough sea.

Two U.S. Navy Neptune search planes with submarine detection gear were patrolling the area trying to locate submerged wreckage.

Balloon Ascension Postponed By Navy

RAPID CITY, S. D. (UPI) — The Navy Tuesday postponed a scheduled balloon flight 80,000 feet above earth for a close-up look at the planet Mars.

Adverse weather conditions were blamed for the postponement of the ascension from the strato-bowl near Rapid City. When weather permits, the balloon will carry Navy Cmdr. Malcolm D. Ross and Prof. John Strang of Johns Hopkins University, along with a 16-inch telescope for observation of Mars.

Fire In British A-Plant

CHAPEL CROSS, Scotland (AP) —Fire broke out Tuesday night in an electric turbine at Britain's newest atomic power plant.

A fire brigade official said it was of a minor nature. The plant started work this weekend. It pipes electricity into the national supply system and produces plutonium for nuclear weapons.

Vicious Chimp Is Shot To Death After Escaping

DANIA, Fla. (AP)—A powerful and vicious chimpanzee ignored tear gas and bullets and escaped from its cage Tuesday. Its owner shot it to death as it perched menacingly atop a utility pole beside a busy highway.

The animal was being moved from its display cage to a pen aboard a truck when it pushed through a gap between the two enclosures.

Three tear gas shells were fired in the chimp's face and it was hit in the hip and chest with shots from a pistol. But he kept going.

The animal raced a few hundred feet down the highway then mounted the pole and was shot by its owner, John Ash.

Paralytic Polio On Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Paralytic polio is on the rise, perhaps because of the public's failure to take advantage of Salk polio vaccine, government reports showed Tuesday.

The Public Health Service said there were 2,510 cases of paralytic polio in the first 10 months of this year compared with 2,499 for the whole of 1957.

Veterans Day Speakers Urge Mightier U.S. Defenses To Deter Future Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A grateful nation paid homage Tuesday to the 32 million veterans living and dead who took up arms to defend its honor on fields from Bunker Hill to Heartbreak Ridge.

Former President Truman and the national commander of the American Legion used their Veterans Day speeches to plead for mightier U.S. defenses to keep the country safe from future attack.

In the most solemn ceremony of the day, a wreath from President Eisenhower was laid before the white marble tomb of the country's three unknown warriors at Arlington National Cemetery to honor the more than 600,000 men killed in the nation's wars.

The ceremony began at 11 a.m., exactly 40 years to the minute after the armistice which ended World War I. Veterans Day formely was called Armistice Day.

The President did not attend the Arlington ceremony. He spent a quiet holiday resting at the White House. His only official caller was Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy.

Veterans Administrator Sumner G. Whittier placed the wreath for Eisenhower at the grave of the servicemen of World Wars I and II and Korea who are "known but to God." He said the President joined him in paying tribute to "those who served the cause of freedom."

The chief speaker at the Arlington services was Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America.

He said the tomb of the unknowns, which gleamed against the blazing colors of military uniforms and fall leaves, should remind the nation of "the grimness of war, the greatness of service and the glory of our national traditions."

Sarnoff said, "Perhaps beyond any prior generations, ours is called upon to muster the material vitality, the moral fervor, the confident faith and intellectual understanding that will guarantee peace or — should the peace be shattered — will guarantee victory."

Thousands of spectators, including cabinet officers, foreign representatives and congressmen, stood with bowed heads as a solitary bugle sounded taps.

There are 22,723,000 living American veterans. They include 2,852,000 who fought in World War I and 15,274,000 from World War II.

Air Force Has Hardware To Send Rocket To Venus

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force has the hardware to power a rocket to Venus, Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever said Tuesday.

Schriever, the top Air Force missileman, said the arrangement in the Pioneer rocket, which reached a third of the way to the moon, could accelerate a missile to the speed needed to reach Venus.

For the next year or so Venus will be the earth's nearest planetary neighbor in space. Later, Mars will move to a closer position than Venus.

Schriever said at a news conference there is not much more push needed to send a vehicle to Venus than to the moon, although it is 100 times farther than the moon. The general is attending a space symposium here.

This is because a missile can coast the entire trip to the moon or another planet, once it is boosted by rockets to the speed necessary to escape from the earth's gravity.

Schriever declined to estimate how much accuracy in aiming would be necessary to make sure that the vehicle reaches Venus. He did say, though, that better aiming would be necessary than for a moon shoot.

The Air Force missileman would not say that a shot at Venus is planned. The most he would say under questioning was that Venus is an "interesting planet."

Reds Fire Hundreds Of Shells At Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Communist artillery fired hundreds of high explosive and fragmentation shells Tuesday in a sporadic odd-day bombardment of the Quemoy Islands. One Nationalist offshore listening post reported a Red threat to resume daily shelling of the islands.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said 232 shells hit the islands up to noon Tuesday — one of the odd numbered days designated by the Reds for shelling the Nationalist offshore island installations.

The Defense Ministry also announced that one of the propaganda loudspeakers opposite the Quemoys had been heard broadcasting a proclamation that the Communists were ending their alternate-day shelling of the Quemoys immediately.

Japanese Volcano Still Spouting Ash

KARUIZAWA, Japan (AP) — Mt. Asama, one of Japan's five major active volcanoes, still sent ash and sulphuric smoke skyward Tuesday.

The 8,340-foot mountain, 85 miles northwest of Tokyo, erupted Monday night hurling volcanic smoke and ash and molten rocks 30,000 feet into the sky. It was the biggest eruption since Sept. 18, 1929.

Police said 2,000 houses in Karuizawa suffered damage, mostly broken windows. Five persons were reported injured from flying glass in three hotels.

White-Collar Strike Closes Chrysler Plants

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. 8,000 unionized office workers and engineers walked out Tuesday to support contract demands, and quickly forced shutdowns of eight plants employing 16,400 production workers.

Chrysler said the strike could spread to a full shutdown of its auto operations.

The United Auto Workers Union, which represents strikers and production workers, ordered white-collar pickets off lines at shift-changing time. Thus UAW members would not violate a policy against crossing picket lines of fellow unionists.

Chrysler and the UAW five weeks ago reached new three-year pact covering the firm's 70,000 production workers. Left unsettled were terms covering those who struck Tuesday.

The first eight shutdowns all stemmed from refusal to cross picket lines.

Drivers shuttling new cars from assembly lines to shipping yards, or drivers bringing bodies or parts to assembly plants, wouldn't go through the pickets lines. In one instance, workers who went out for lunch wouldn't go back.

Six of the first plants shut were in the Detroit area. The other two were the Plymouth assembly and body plants at Evansville, Ind.

Balloon Ascension Postponed By Navy

Adverse weather conditions were blamed for the postponement of the ascension from the strato-bowl near Rapid City. When weather permits, the balloon will carry Navy Cmdr. Malcolm D. Ross and Prof. John Strang of Johns Hopkins University, along with a 16-inch telescope for observation of Mars.

Fire In British A-Plant

CHAPEL CROSS, Scotland (AP) —Fire broke out Tuesday night in an electric turbine at Britain's newest atomic power plant.

A fire brigade official said it was of a minor nature. The plant started work this weekend. It pipes electricity into the national supply system and produces plutonium for nuclear weapons.

Soviets Rebuff Joint Approach To Space Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States Tuesday opened its campaign to round up broad support for a projected U.N commission on peaceful use of outer space. But the cold war apparently threatens space as it does the earth.

Rival U.S. and Soviet proposals will come before the 81-nation Political Committee when the U.N. plunges Wednesday into history's first full-scale debate on space. The Soviet Union has brushed aside a U.S. attempt to knit together a joint approach on the issue, a U.S. spokesman disclosed.

He said the Soviet Union was given a chance to see the U.S. proposal and invited to make comments upon it. But the Russians came out with their own resolution, and told the United States it preferred to hear U.N. debate before commenting on possibilities of East-West cooperation.

The Soviet Union asks the U.N. to approve both a ban on use of space for military purposes and elimination of foreign military bases on territories of other states, particularly Europe, the Middle East and Africa. All this would be under international control within the framework of the United Nations.

The United States views this as an attempt to inject a cold war issue into discussions of outer space. A U.S. spokesman expressed concern about the possibility that outer space would be linked to disarmament and thus imperil chances for agreement right from the outset of the debate.

The United States hopes to put in its formal resolution Wednesday. Cosponsors already include Britain, Ireland, Canada and Japan.

Vicious Chimp Is Shot To Death After Escaping

DANIA, Fla. (AP)—A powerful and vicious chimpanzee ignored tear gas and bullets and escaped from its cage Tuesday. Its owner shot it to death as it perched menacingly atop a utility pole beside a busy highway.

The animal was being moved from its display cage to a pen aboard a truck when it pushed through a gap between the two enclosures.

Three tear gas shells were fired in the chimp's face and it was hit in the hip and chest with shots from a pistol. But he kept going.

The animal raced a few hundred feet down the highway then mounted the pole and was shot by its owner, John Ash.

Paralytic Polio On Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Paralytic polio is on the rise, perhaps because of the public's failure to take advantage of Salk polio vaccine, government reports showed Tuesday.

The Public Health Service said there were 2,510 cases of paralytic polio in the first 10 months of this year compared with 2,499 for the whole of 1957.

Passengers From Seized Plane Freed

31, Including Six Crewmen, Turned Over To Red Cross

HAVANA (AP)—The rebel high command announced Tuesday night it has released 25 passengers and 6 crewmen from two Cubana airliners hijacked in the air Oct. 21 and Nov. 5.

One, presumably the pilot who resisted the rebels' seizure in flight Oct. 21, was reported seriously wounded. With him were two other crewmen. The 11 passengers aboard the plane had been freed previously.

Earlier reports had said the pilot was shot when he tried to resist orders to land on a rebel air strip.

The rebels said all 31 persons were turned over to Red Cross representatives in eastern Cuba and that they arrived safely in Santiago.

Truce Violation Charged

The rebel announcement said the release was carried out despite a government breach of good faith during a cease-fire arranged for safe return of the captives.

The rebels said bad faith occurred when a Cuban navy plane flew low over the place agreed on for transfer of the captives.

The insurgents claimed the navy plane and pilot were intercepted and captured. There was no explanation of how such a capture might have taken place.

The rebel tactic in seizing three Cubana airliners recently has been to overpower the crew in the air. The third airliner crashed Nov. 1 in Nipe Bay, killing 17 persons including six American citizens.

A 30-hour cease-fire was announced Sunday by the rebel high command for the Santiago area for releasing plane occupants to Red Cross representatives. The cease-fire was to last until 6 p.m. Tuesday.

One American Aboard

Passengers aboard the plane seized Nov. 5 included one American, U.S. Navy Airman Robert M. Montgomery of Miami, Fla. Another was Amado Cantillo, son of the Cuban army commander in the Santiago district.

Raul Castro, brother of rebel chief Fidel Castro, said in a broadcast the insurgents expected an explanation from the government of the alleged cease-fire violation by the navy plane. He said no more transfers of prisoners would be made until such a statement was received.

The rebels say they have about 200 army prisoners they want to turn over to the Red Cross. Some of them were said to be wounded in recent clashes in Oriente Province.

Reds Fire Hundreds Of Shells At Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Communist artillery fired hundreds of high explosive and fragmentation shells Tuesday in a sporadic odd-day bombardment of the Quemoy Islands. One Nationalist offshore listening post reported a Red threat to resume daily shelling of the islands.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said 232 shells hit the islands up to noon Tuesday — one of the odd numbered days designated by the Reds for shelling the Nationalist offshore island installations.

The Defense Ministry also announced that one of the propaganda loudspeakers opposite the Quemoys had been heard broadcasting a proclamation that the Communists were ending their alternate-day shelling of the Quemoys immediately.

Demo Liberals Back Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) said Tuesday he and other senators he classifies as liberal will support strongly the legislative program laid down by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Proxmire was a chief target of campaign attacks by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon on those they called Democratic radicals.

The senator said he and most of his colleagues who share his political philosophy are satisfied with Johnson's leadership.

In the past, some of these have complained that Johnson has followed a course too near the middle of the road to suit them. There has been speculation the Texas senator would face demands from this group—greatly augmented in the Nov. 4 election—for a stronger voice in shaping party policy.

Proxmire said he has found no indications of dissatisfaction with Johnson's course.

Veterans Day Speakers Urge Mightier U.S. Defenses To Deter Future Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A grateful nation paid homage Tuesday to the 32 million veterans living and dead who took up arms to defend its honor on fields from Bunker Hill to Heartbreak Ridge.

Former President Truman and the national commander of the American Legion used their Veterans Day speeches to plead for mightier U.S. defenses to keep the country safe from future attack.

In the most solemn ceremony of the day, a wreath from President Eisenhower was laid before the white marble tomb of the country's three unknown warriors at Arlington National Cemetery to honor the more than 600,000 men killed in the nation's wars.

The ceremony began at 11 a.m., exactly 40 years to the minute after the armistice which ended World War I. Veterans Day formely was called Armistice Day.

The President did not attend the Arlington ceremonies. He spent a quiet holiday resting at the White House. His only official caller was Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy.

Veterans Administrator Sumner G. Whittier placed the wreath for Eisenhower at the grave of the servicemen of World Wars I and II and Korea who are "known but to God." He said the President joined him in paying tribute to "those who served the cause of freedom."

The chief speaker at the Arlington services was Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America.

He said the tomb of the unknowns, which gleamed against the blazing colors of military uniforms and fall leaves, should remind the nation of "the grimness of war, the greatness of service and the glory of our national traditions."

Sarnoff said, "Perhaps beyond any prior generations, ours is called upon to muster the material vitality, the moral fervor, the confident faith and intellectual understanding that will guarantee peace or — should the peace be shattered — will guarantee victory."

Thousands of spectators, including cabinet officers, foreign representatives and congressmen, stood with bowed heads as a solitary bugle sounded taps.

There are 22,723,000 living American veterans. They include 2,852,000 who fought in World War I and 15,274,000 from World War II.

Air Force Has Hardware To Send Rocket To Venus

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force has the hardware to power a rocket to Venus, Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever said Tuesday.

Schriever, the top Air Force missileman, said the arrangement in the Pioneer rocket, which reached a third of the way to the moon, could accelerate a missile to the speed needed to reach Venus.

For the next year or so Venus will be the earth's nearest planetary neighbor in space. Later, Mars will move to a closer position than Venus.

Schriever said at a news conference there is not much more push needed to send a vehicle to Venus than to the moon, although it is 100 times farther than the moon. The general is attending a space symposium here.

This is because a missile can coast the entire trip to the moon or another planet, once it is boosted by rockets to the speed necessary to escape from the earth's gravity.

Schriever declined to estimate how much accuracy in aiming would be necessary to make sure that the vehicle reaches Venus. He did say, though, that better aiming would be necessary than for a moon shoot.

The Air Force missileman would not say that a shot at Venus is planned. The most he would say under questioning was that Venus is an "interesting planet."

Japanese Volcano Still Spouting Ash

KARUIZAWA, Japan (AP) — Mt. Asama, one of Japan's five major active volcanoes, still sent ash and sulphuric smoke skyward Tuesday.

The 8,340-foot mountain, 85 miles northwest of Tokyo, erupted Monday night hurling volcanic smoke and ash and molten rocks 30,000 feet into the sky. It was the biggest eruption since Sept. 18, 1929.

Police said 2,000 houses in Karuizawa suffered damage, mostly broken windows. Five persons were reported injured from flying glass in three hotels.

Red Drive To Force West Out Of Berlin Carries War Peril

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev seems to be setting the stage for a major effort to force the Western powers out of Berlin.

The showdown this effect will produce may be slow in coming, perhaps one to three years. But it will probably carry the greatest danger of all-out war between te Soviet and Western blocs.

Those are the estimates made here of the future significance of the latest moves in Moscoz and Western capitals over the fate of divided Berlin. American officials take seriously Khrushchev's Monday announcement that the Soviets intend to turn over administration of East Berlin to the Communist authorities of East Germany.

The timing of his declaration may have been determined by interest in fostering Soviet ties with Communist Poland.

But the best informed authorities here said they had no doubt that in the long run Khrushchev will undertake the serious attempt to force the Western powers out of Berlin and build up the prestige of the Soviet-dominated regime there by making the East German government supreme.

The United States, Britain and France have occupied the city jointly with the Soviet Union since the end of World War II.

U.S. and British spokesman turned down Khrushchev's demand for an end to the occupation. The State Department reasserted the U.S. policy of fighting if necessary to preserve Western interests in the city which is entirely surrounded by East German territory.

School Board Holds Meeting At Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock School Board met in secret session Tuesday but members afterwards refused to reveal what was discussed.

Probable topics were Monday's federal court order for the board to take positive action toward implementing integration, and a rumored mass resignation of five of the six members.

Board President Wayne Upton turned aside newsmen's questions, saying the board would hold an open meeting Wednesday.

Newsmen speculated the board was seeking reconciliation with Gov. Orval E. Faubus, its sternest critic, when Claude Carpenter Jr., a close friend of the governor, showed up for the meeting.

Carpenter remained throughout the session but said afterward he appeared only as legal counsel for Dr. Dale Alford, board member and congressman-elect.

Carpenter managed Alford's congressional campaign, leading to speculation that Faubus backed the doctor's successful write-in bid to unseat veteran Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark). Faubus consistently refused to confirm such an inclination on his part.

Alford said Tuesday he had no intention of resigning, but it was reported that Upton and board members Dr. William G. Cooper, R. A. Lile, Harold Engstrom and Frank Lambright held an informal meeting Sunday night and discussed the possibility of resigning.

Game Warden Who Spurned Bribe Slain

PATTERSON, N.Y. (UPI) — A barber and a bricklayer admitted Tuesday they killed a game warden who rejected their offer of a $10 bribe after he caught them poaching on the estate of baking magnate L. A. Cushman, police said.

The two, Mario Sesta, 17, and Martin Anzalone, 29, both of the Bronx, N.Y., told police they shot Clarence Smith, 30, after he had threatened to arrest them.

But Sesta, a bricklayer, and Anzalone, a barber and laborer, could not agree which one fired the first of two shots, either of which could have killed Smith, police said.

Six Questioned In Dynamiting Of W.Va. School

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —Authorities investigating the dynamiting of the 17-room school building at nearby Osage questioned a half dozen local persons Tuesday, including one who "could be classed as a suspect."

Monongalia County Sheriff Charles J. Whiston, who said that 20 FBI agents and at least eight county officials were on the scene of the Monday morning blast, declined to identify any of these questioned but said that "no one has been charged yet."

Whiston said that there was "only a remote possibility" that any one would be arrested Tuesday night although authorities planned to stay on the job at least until midnight.

As for a motive for the dynamiting, Whiston said authorities probably would not know until an arrest is made.

'Monty' Moves To Make Peace With Italians

ROME (AP) — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery moved Tuesday to make peace with Italians angered because his memoirs questioned the fighting will of their soldiers in World War II.

He sent word his remarks "were not intended to reflect in any way of the courage of the Italian soldier." But the British war hero did not retract his statements. At his country home in Hampshire, Montgomery said his letter was an explanation.

Montgomery communicated with the Italian government through Sir Ashley Clarke, British ambassador to Rome. The marshal wrote the envoy:

"Any remarks I made in my memoirs were not intended to reflect in any way on the courage of the Italian soldier. During the late war, his morale was low because his heart was not in the Fascist cause. Also, he was not too well equipped. When the fighting man agrees with the cause for which he is fighting, and is well equipped and well led, he fights to the death. Thus, it is with the Italian soldier of today. He has those qualities which stamp the first class fighting man."

Montgomery's memoirs had brought a formal protest to London from the Fanfani government.

Three More Nations Would Up Asian Aid

SEATTLE (AP)—Britain, Canada and Japan served notice Tuesday they will join with the United States in stepping up assistance to the less-developed nations of South and Southeast Asia.

These assurances came as the 18-nation Colombo Plan ministerial conference reached the halfway mark in its four-day deliberations here. The conference is considering ways of helping 700 million free Asians under mounting pressure from the Communist bloc's economic offensive.

Little Old Lady Threatens "To Get Gun" To Protect Store

BALTIMORE (AP)—At 73, most women would be content to sit back and take things easy.

Not Miss Helen V. Meads. She's in the middle of a fight to protect her small neighborhood confectionery and grocery from hooliganism by gangs of juveniles.

"I'm not going to give up my store without a fight," she said in a letter to Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron.

"I am going to get a gun and protect myself and my customers. If that is the way it must be, so be it!"

The sprightly little woman—she stands 4-10 and weighs 105—has been earning a livelihood with her small place for 22 years. She wrote the commissioner:

"I had wire enclosures built around the tops of the counters and chained the lids of the soda coolers shut. When these gangs of boys were frustrated in their efforts to steal again, they turned violent and murderous in their attacks.

"When they came in and found the soda boxes chained shut, they slung empty bottles at me. On another occasion, they heaved a heavy showcase up and dropped it down on a child's foot.

"Yes, I called the radio police and I was told, 'Miss Meads, if you can't supply us with the names and addresses of these boys we can do nothing for you.'"

Miss Meads said she now keeps her store door locked, unlocking it for each customer.

"Even then," she said, "some of these hoodlums have pushed their way in behind groups of small children. Isn't this an indecent way to have to conduct a business? Does this sound like America?"

During Halloween week, Miss Meads said, some boys were throwing yellow paint over the stock and walls and when the cop on the beat came in five minutes later, "a witness offered him the names and addresses of two of the boys. He did not take them, nor was there a report made of the incident. Why?"

She said she called Northeastern police after a boy was beaten leaving her store and was told she must obtain names and addresses and swear out warrants.

"I can understand the swearing out of warrants and pressing charges," she said. "But the finding part puzzles me. I have long been under the impression that this was police work. Isn't it?"

Police Inspector Julian Forrest visited Miss Meads Tuesday and assured her the police would afford her protection to run her business without fear.

Eight Youths Seized As Burglar Suspects

FERNDALE, Md. (AP) — Anne Arundel County police arrested eight youths Monday and Tuesday as members of a burglary ring believed to be responsible for a series of more than 20 burglaries.

Police said the burglaries, all in the Brooklyn Park-Glen Burnie area of the county south of Baltimore, netted gang members more than $6,000 in cash and valuables.

The youths range in age from 13 to 17. All but two are elementary or high school students. The two oldest, 16 and 17, were held at the police station here while the others were released in custody of their parents pending Youth Court action.

Police said no charges were filed against any of the eight.

Sgt. Lloyd M. Smith said the youths implicated a man and a woman as receivers of stolen goods.

Investigators said the offenses included 23 break-ins of homes and businesses since June. The largest haul was the theft of more than $900 Oct. 5 from a 5-and-10 cent store.

Burmese Army Opens Drive Against Rebels

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — The Burmese army has launched an offensive against Communist rebel forces near Toungoo, about 200 miles north of Rangoon.

Known under the code name "Kywegyo"—buffalo horn — the operation is aimed at the destruction of the Communist headquarters in the jungle.

"Yes, I called the radio police and I was told, 'Miss Meads, if you can't supply us with the names and addresses of these boys we can do nothing for you.'"

Miss Meads said she now keeps her store door locked, unlocking it for each customer.

"Even then," she said, "some of these hoodlums have pushed their way in behind groups of small children. Isn't this an indecent way to have to conduct a business? Does this sound like America?"

During Halloween week, Miss Meads said, some boys were throwing yellow paint over the stock and walls and when the cop on the beat came in five minutes later, "a witness offered him the names and addresses of two of the boys. He did not take them, nor was there a report made of the incident. Why?"

She said she called Northeastern police after a boy was beaten leaving her store and was told she must obtain names and addresses and swear out warrants. "I can understand the swearing out of warrants and pressing charges," she said. "But the finding part puzzles me. I have long been under the impression that this was police work. Isn't it?"

Police Inspector Julian Forrest visited Miss Meads Tuesday and assured her the police would afford her protection to run her business without fear.

Eight Youths Seized As Burglar Suspects

FERNDALE, Md. (AP) — Anne Arundel County police arrested eight youths Monday and Tuesday as members of a burglary ring believed to be responsible for a series of more than 20 burglaries.

Police said the burglaries, all in the Brooklyn Park-Glen Burnie area of the county south of Baltimore, netted gang members more than $6,000 in cash and valuables.

The youths range in age from 13 to 17. All but two are elementary or high school students. The two oldest, 16 and 17, were held at the police station here while the others were released in custody of their parents pending Youth Court action.

Police said no charges were filed against any of the eight.

Sgt. Lloyd M. Smith said the youths implicated a man and a woman as receivers of stolen goods.

Investigators said the offenses included 23 break-ins of homes and businesses since June. The largest haul was the theft of more than $900 Oct. 5 from a 5-and-10 cent store.

The probabilities show that you ARE NOT! The average plant and business establishment has doubled its electrical consumption in the past ten years. Despite increased electrical demand, most users have not improved their wiring to meet the situation.

HOW CAN YOU DETECT POWER LOSS?

The symptoms are easily detected; a tangle of exposed wires from too few outlets, insufficient lighting, slow down of machinery, a light flicker when an extra load is imposed.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

QUALIFIED NECA CONTRACTORS® can save you impressive sums of money in installing and maintaining electrical equipment.

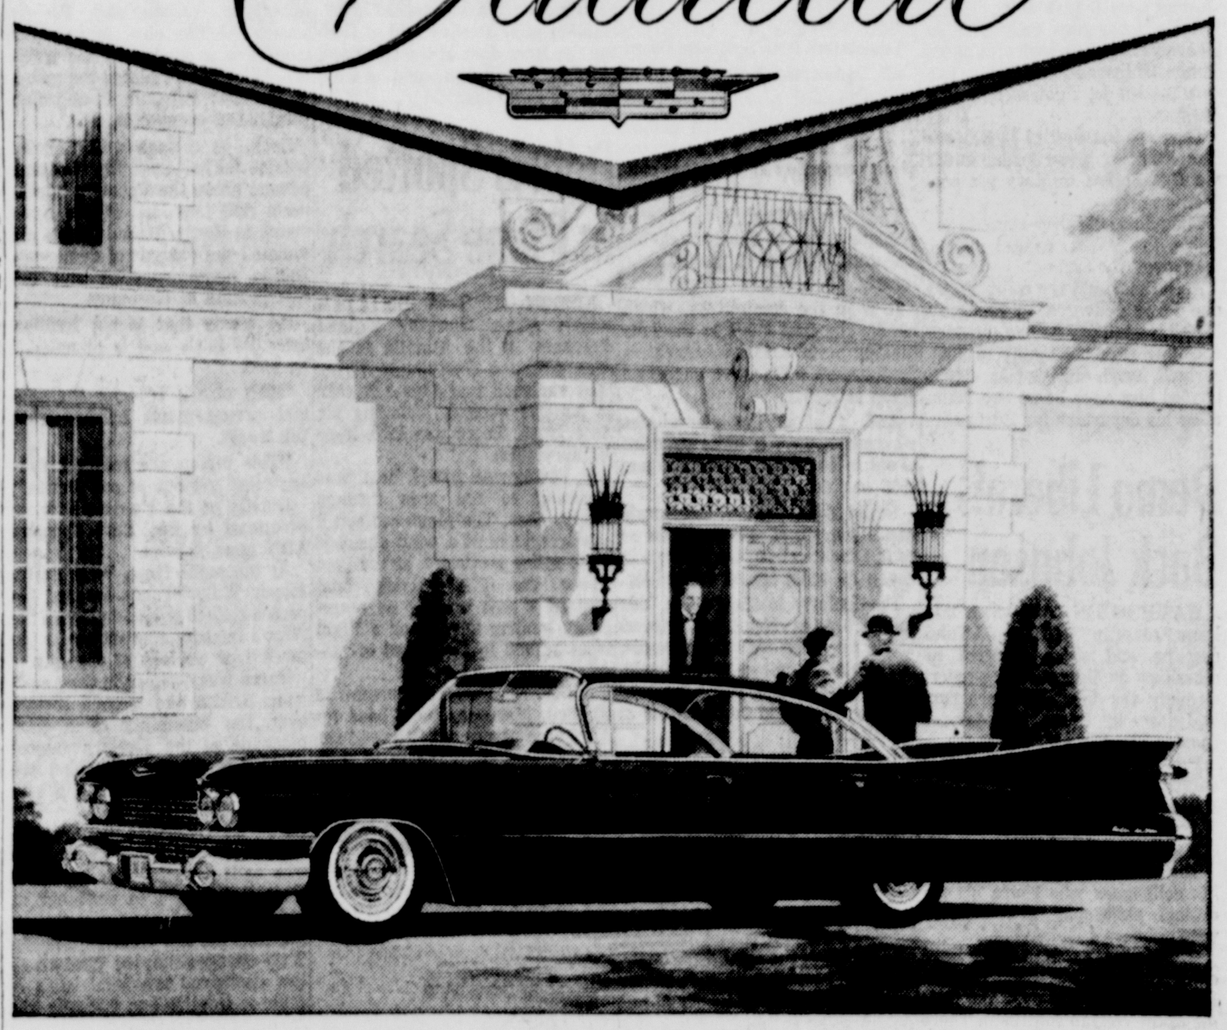
Cadillac



Motordom's New Measurement of Greatness!

The American motorist has long since adopted his own technique for judging the year's automotive offerings.

He simply looks to the new Cadillac car to discover motordom's fullest measure of all that is new and good and wonderful.

And never before has Cadillac placed such a high standard on the world's motor cars as it has for 1959.

For the new "car of cars" has introduced a whole new concept of what an automobile can do and be . . . and how it should look and act.

To the eye alone, it is a revelation. Elegant, majestic, substantial, poised—it has brought a new magic and splendor to the world of motion.

Its Fleetwood interiors are miracles of advanced design. Appointments are beautiful beyond imagination . . . and its fabrics and leathers are unbelievably luxurious.

The 1959 Cadillac is equally inspiring from behind the wheel. Its spectacular new engine, its advanced transmission and its new ease of ride and handling make every journey the most glorious distance between any two points.

These Cadillac advancements have been interpreted in thirteen body styles—including a new Eldorado Brougham.

So if you contemplate the purchase of any motor car in the coming year, you owe yourself an early visit with this newest of Cadillacs.

Sixty minutes in the showroom and on the highway will give you a full understanding of the new way to measure greatness in a motor car.

Mormon Missionaries' Job Takes Stamina, Dedication

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Hundreds of hours of work, miles of walking from house to house, thousands of words spoken, and the results: One new believer.

This is the resolute task being carried on by about 5,000 polished, gracious young men and women who earn not a cent and who even pay their own expenses.

For each convert won, it takes an average 500 man hours of work.

"Even to bring one person to the truth is worth all the effort, no matter what it takes," said Apostle Harold B. Lee of Salt Lake City, one of the ruling Council of 12 of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

The Mormon effort invested in the job, in terms of the proportion of full-time evangelistic efforts by members, is unsurpassed among the larger churches.

Most Mormon young men, at age 20, become missionaries for two years. So do many Mormon young women, at age 23. Replacements each year keep the force up to strength.

The young ministers, sent out two by two as Jesus dispatched his disciples, are busy in cities throughout the United States and in most foreign countries. The job is not an easy one.

Working dawn to dark, five days a week, each missionary averages winning four converts per year—one in three months—but the total for the whole movement is a weighty one—about 20,000 new members annually.

"It takes dedication, physical stamina and mental alertness to do the work," said Theodore C. Jacobson, president of the Church's Eastern States Mission, with headquarters in New York City.

"It also takes a lot of perseverance and humility. There's no way to reach the human heart without being humble about it."

Main method used is the personal visit, on a house-to-house basis. A two-member team will approach a home, knock on the door.

When it is answered, one of them will say something like this: "We're ministers from the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-day Saints. We have a message about God to leave with you. May we come in?"

Sometimes, the response is a snarl and a promptly shut door. Sometimes it is polite uninterest. Whatever it is, the missionaries are schooled to take it with a kindly smile. Sometimes people are ready to listen.

"Our purpose is to offer a message, not inflict it; to provide an opportunity, not impose it," said Apostle Spencer W. Kimball of Salt Lake City.

Frostburg Not To Permit Cable TV

Frostburg plans to stick by its decision not to allow cable television installation by a private firm until a citizens' committee-sponsored UHF-TV system has been proved satisfactory or unsatisfactory.

The statement was issued by Frostburg Mayor Joseph James in reply to advertisements by Potomac Valley Television Company of Cumberland that it will install a cable system in Eckhart and Frostburg with service available about December 15. The PV-TV plan would also include special hi-fi FM background music at no extra monthly cost, the advertisement said.

PV-TV officials said they had no comment on the Frostburg development.

Mayor James pointed out the cable company applied for permission by letter April 2, 1957, to relocate or install new poles for erection of equipment and distribution of TV signals in the Frostburg area.

On April 8, council by unanimous decision said permission would not be granted at that time.

The council by letter pointed out it had pledged support to a committee of citizens which was in the process of obtaining UHF-TV for Frostburg. It added that in all fairness to the cable company and to prevent a possible financial loss, permission would not be granted until the Frostburg UHF project proved satisfactory or unsatisfactory.

Mayor James said that one unit or translator of the UHF system has been installed at Frostburg at a cost exceeding $5,000. This amount was donated by approximately 100 persons last spring.

The unit is operating far beyond expectations of the citizens' group, the mayor said.

The committee is receiving donations from Frostburg viewers in the hope of raising enough money to install three additional translators. Each family is being asked to contribute $25 which would give them complete network coverage. Whether any additional contributions would be needed on an annual basis is an unknown quantity at this time, Mayor James said, adding that it is hoped money realized from the $25 voluntary contributions will maintain the system for some time.

Mayor James said council sees no reason to reverse its decision regarding the cable TV company and has repledged support to the Frostburg community TV company.

TOP SCHOLAR—Tom Ward, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gray Ward, LaVale, and a student at Johns Hopkins University, was the academic leader in the School of Chemical Engineering and third in last year's Freshman class of 369 students. A sophomore this year, Ward is a member of Phi Epsilon social fraternity and plays trumpet in the school band of which he is assistant librarian. He was graduated from Allegany High School in 1956.

New Parking Fine System Is Effective Saturday

A new system of fines for persons violating the city's parking regulations goes into effect Saturday.

And the "courtesy" meters at Police Headquarters and South End Fire Station will be discontinued. These "courtesy" meters had allowed a parking violator to pay 25 cents instead of the usual $1 fine if he appeared at either headquarters within an hour after the violation.

Effective Saturday, parking meter violations will be subject to a flat $1 fine. For continuous violation of the time allowed by meters, each overtime will be considered as a separate offense.

Motorists found guilty of violating yellow line regulations will be liable to a minimum fine of $2. Continuous parking over a 15-minute period will be considered a separate offense.

Motorists guilty of violating red line or no-stopping area provisions of the ordinance will be subject to a minimum fine of $5 if found guilty. Continuous parking over a 15-minute period will be considered a separate offense.

For extreme cases, maximum fine of $100 is provided for these three violations or in default not less than one day nor more than 30 days in city or county jail.

Should it become necessary to serve a warrant in violation cases, a person, upon conviction, will be subject to a fine of $10. The same maximum penalties are provided for extreme cases.

Other provisions of the city's parking regulations, whether expressed or implied in the ordinance, are subject to a minimum fine of $5 and the ordinance also said the city police magistrate will not have power to suspend or reduce the fine provided.

The Mayor and Council passed the ordinances, introduced by Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming, on October 27.

Fleming said he plans to meet Friday morning with the 1 a. m. to 9 a. m. and 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. shifts to go over the new regulations.

COAST TO COAST ONLY 1½ CENTS PER MILE FOR GAS!
Pontiac's new Tempest 420E V-8 sets the year's most important economy mark—Here's the story and what it means to you!

"No two people drive alike—if you have a light touch or drive slower than I did you might even top my 21.7 miles per gallon. But no matter how you drive—or where you drive—you'll be amazed at the mileage you get from this big roomy Pontiac V-8."

We asked one of America's most respected automotive writers and car testers—"Uncle Tom" McCahill—to put a standard Pontiac Catalina Sedan with our new economy V-8 to the test . . . coast to coast.

And with only one specification—that the run would be exactly like you would drive coast to coast yourself—in mountains, in city traffic, across deserts, buying gas wherever the tank ran low.

And here's the phenomenal story of that trip in every complete detail—all supervised and officially certified by NASCAR, America's top automobile competition authority.

What does it mean to you?

Simply—and very importantly—this: For the first time, you can get deep-chested V-8 pep with better mileage than from many smaller so-called "economy cars" . . . and get it on regular fuel!

If you owned a Pontiac with this revolutionary new Tempest 420E V-8 power plant right now you'd be enjoying savings of up to 5 cents a gallon on regular fuel.

See your Pontiac dealer soon—and discover the newest in V-8 performance and economy!

B&O Directors To Vote On Dividend

In less than a week directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are expected to meet for dividend consideration.

Such action usually is taken immediately preceding the annual stockholders' meeting which this year is scheduled to take place next Monday.

Last year at the November meeting the board declared an extra of 50 cents a share on the common stock and simultaneously voted a reduced dividend of $1 a share for 1958, payable 25 cents quarterly.

So stockholders this year will receive total payments of only $1 a share as against $2.50 last year, unless an extra dividend is voted at the forthcoming meeting.

In taking action on dividends in November last year, the board was governed as to the timing of the declaration by the terms of the company's 1944 adjustment plan, under which it is still operating.

The plan requires that whenever a dividend is declared the board must first make a determination of the company's available income for the full year in which the declaration is made, which it cannot do until near the year's end.

Following the 1958 year-end dividend action, Howard E. Simson, B. & O. president, said:

"Near the end of 1958 the board will again have opportunity to consider any further payment that year which in the light of conditions prevailing may be deemed proper."

In less than a week directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are expected to meet for dividend consideration.

Such action usually is taken immediately preceding the annual stockholders' meeting which this year is scheduled to take place next Monday.

Last year at the November meeting the board declared an extra of 50 cents a share on the common stock and simultaneously voted a reduced dividend of $1 a share for 1958, payable 25 cents quarterly.

So stockholders this year will receive total payments of only $1 a share as against $2.50 last year, unless an extra dividend is voted at the forthcoming meeting.

In taking action on dividends in November last year, the board was governed as to the timing of the declaration by the terms of the company's 1944 adjustment plan, under which it is still operating.

The plan requires that whenever a dividend is declared the board must first make a determination of the company's available income for the full year in which the declaration is made, which it cannot do until near the year's end.

Following the 1958 year-end dividend action, Howard E. Simson, B. & O. president, said:

"Near the end of 1958 the board will again have opportunity to consider any further payment that year which in the light of conditions prevailing may be deemed proper."

Organizations Join To Mark Veterans Day

Frostburg Hears Talk By A. C. Stewart

FROSTBURG — Veterans Day was observed in Frostburg yesterday when veterans organizations banded together for a combined service at the location of the monument of World War I on Eckhart Flat. Cooperating groups were Farrady Post 24, American Legion; John R. Fairgrieve Post 2462, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Disabled American Veterans, Braddock Chapter 9, and Cecil Randolph Post 271 American Legion.

Rev. Paul Caravetta served as master of ceremonies. Rev. Paul V. Taylor, pastor of Zion United Church of Christ, gave the invocation and benediction. A. Charles Stewart, register of wills for Allegany County, gave the principal address.

Mr. Stewart pointed out that World War I found the United States without adequate hospital facilities to take care of the ill and wounded and the aid of a number of outstanding American organizations was sought. As a result the first two field hospitals to arrive on the battlefields were made possible by the financial aid of these American organizations.

At the end of the war it was discovered that existing federal hospitals were totally inadequate to care for the great number of returning maimed, wounded and sick veterans. "One of our American fraternal organizations," Stewart said, "speedily constructed a 700 bed hospital in Boston and turned it over to the government on November 16, 1918 just five days after the Armistice. This hospital was the fore-runner of our present day Veterans Administration hospitals."

Again after World War I the federal government set up a rehabilitation program but failed to make provisions for transportation to centers, food and other necessities until a federal check arrived, the speaker recalled. "Again an American organization immediately set up a $500,000 revolving fund to provide quick loans to tide the veterans over this period. This was the first financial assistance offered to veterans in a situation of this kind and could be considered the groundwork for today's "G. I. Loans," Stewart pointed out.

Stewart closed his address by explaining the meaning of the National Shrine to the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery.

He closed by repeating the poem "In Flanders Field" after giving a short biography of the writer, John McCrae.

Following the address, representatives of the four veterans organizations placed a wreath in front of the monument, taps were sounded and the firing squad fired a salute.

The American Legion, Farrady Post, played host during the afternoon to all veterans of World War I by giving a dinner for them at the post home.

25 MPH Limit To Be Enforced At Midland

Mayor Baker Issues Orders

MIDLAND — At the monthly meeting of the mayor and town council, Mayor Lionel B. Baker announced that the 25-mile speed limit will be strictly enforced. Numerous complaints of cars speeding through town, endangering the lives of citizens, especially children, have been received. Street commissioners Donald Cook and Alex Rennie have been instructed to place "Stop" signs at the intersections of the main streets.

A new winter police uniform has been ordered for the bailiff, Joseph Monahon, and speeding violation tickets have been purchased. Light Commissioner Harry Devlin, reported that several more new street lights have been installed by The Potomac Edison Company.

Tax Collector Hazel Taylor, reported that approximately $3000 has been collected since June.

Robert Turner, city garbage collector, told the mayor and council that a few citizens are abusing the garbage collection law, by holding back their garbage for several weeks and then paying 25c to have it hauled away. Mr. Turner also stated that some persons are placing ashes in large tubs that weigh over 40 pounds, and are extremely difficult to lift into the truck. Mayor Baker instructed Mr. Turner to collect his money by the month, which is only one dollar, and not to haul anything weighing over 40 pounds.

Mayor Baker reported that plans for the ham supper, which is to be held in Firemen's Hall, Railroad Street, Thursday, November 13 from 4 to 7 p. m. are progressing very well. A large crowd is expected to attend this community affair, which is for the benefit of the street lighting improvement fund.

25 MPH Limit To Be Enforced At Midland

Mayor Baker Issues Orders

MIDLAND — At the monthly meeting of the mayor and town council, Mayor Lionel B. Baker announced that the 25-mile speed limit will be strictly enforced. Numerous complaints of cars speeding through town, endangering the lives of citizens, especially children, have been received. Street commissioners Donald Cook and Alex Rennie have been instructed to place "Stop" signs at the intersections of the main streets.

A new winter police uniform has been ordered for the bailiff, Joseph Monahon, and speeding violation tickets have been purchased. Light Commissioner Harry Devlin, reported that several more new street lights have been installed by The Potomac Edison Company.

Tax Collector Hazel Taylor, reported that approximately $3000 has been collected since June.

Robert Turner, city garbage collector, told the mayor and council that a few citizens are abusing the garbage collection law, by holding back their garbage for several weeks and then paying 25c to have it hauled away. Mr. Turner also stated that some persons are placing ashes in large tubs that weigh over 40 pounds, and are extremely difficult to lift into the truck. Mayor Baker instructed Mr. Turner to collect his money by the month, which is only one dollar, and not to haul anything weighing over 40 pounds.

Mayor Baker reported that plans for the ham supper, which is to be held in Firemen's Hall, Railroad Street, Thursday, November 13 from 4 to 7 p. m. are progressing very well. A large crowd is expected to attend this community affair, which is for the benefit of the street lighting improvement fund.

State Adjutant-General Will Resign

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maj.Gen. Milton A. Reckord, adjutant general of Maryland under five governors, announced Tuesday he will submit his resignation Jan. 14.

That is the date when Gov.McKeldin leaves office and Gov.-elect Tawes takes over. Reckord said he will submit his resignation as soon as Tawes takes office.

"I just think it is time for me to step aside," he said.

The 78-year-old adjutant general has served since 1920 when he was appointed by Gov. Albert C.Ritchie. He was on leave on active duty with the Army for five years during World War II.

The tall, white-haired general recalled that he wanted to retire eight years ago, but that the newly elected McKeldin asked him to stay on as long as he was governor.

"Since I'm the oldest adjutant general in existence, I think it's time for me to resign," he said. He will be 79 Dec. 28.

Reckord is a native of Harford County and is a graduate of Bel Air High School. He enlisted in the National Guard as a private in 1901. Five months later he became a sergeant and in 1903 was promoted to captain. He served in both world wars.

During World War II, he served as commander of the 29th Division, commanding general of the 3rd Corps Area, later known as the 3rd Service Command; as provost marshal of the European Theater of Operations, and finally with the office of Chief of Staff in the War Department.

Tax To Be Deducted From Estate

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— The State Supreme Court said Tuesday any inheritance tax against a bond and some shares willed to James W. Neilly of Ballymena, North Ireland, may be deducted from the residuary estate of Marion H. Judy of Petersburg.

The high court said in an opinion written by President Judge Frank C. Haymond that generally "in the absence of a state statute or a testamentary direction to the contrary, the ultimate burden of an estate tax falls on the residuary estate if the residuary estate is sufficient for the payment of the tax."

Marion Judy, who died Sept. 28, 1956, had willed, among other things, a $10,000 government bond and 100 shares of General Motors common stock to Neilly with the provision that the inheritance tax be "paid out of my estate." Other bequests had no such provision but the Grant County Circuit Court ruled that all taxes would be taken from the residuary estate.

In a final decree last Dec. 14, the lower court said "the estate and income taxes against the state should be paid from the residuary estate of the decedent; and that none of such taxes should be charged against the property willed to any beneficiary."

The tall, white-haired general recalled that he wanted to retire eight years ago, but that the newly elected McKeldin asked him to stay on as long as he was governor.

"Since I'm the oldest adjutant general in existence, I think it's time for me to resign," he said. He will be 79 Dec. 28.

Tax To Be Deducted From Estate

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Supreme Court said Tuesday any inheritance tax against a bond and some shares willed to James W. Neilly of Ballymena, North Ireland, may be deducted from the residuary estate of Marion H. Judy of Petersburg.

The high court said in an opinion written by President Judge Frank C. Haymond that generally "in the absence of a state statute or a testamentary direction to the contrary, the ultimate burden of an estate tax falls on the residuary estate if the residuary estate is sufficient for the payment of the tax."

Marion Judy, who died Sept. 28, 1956, had willed, among other things, a $10,000 government bond and 100 shares of General Motors common stock to Neilly with the provision that the inheritance tax be "paid out of my estate." Other bequests had no such provision but the Grant County Circuit Court ruled that all taxes would be taken from the residuary estate.

In a final decree last Dec. 14, the lower court said "the estate and income taxes against the state should be paid from the residuary estate of the decedent: and that none of such taxes should be charged against the property willed to any beneficiary."

School Has Bomb Scare

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police cut locks off hundreds of high school lockers in a bomb hunt that produced nothing but hundreds of wrecked locks and a holiday for 1,154 students at nearby Franklin Junior - Senior High School Wednesday.

The students and 55 teachers were turned away as they arrived at school after a telephone caller reported a bomb had been planted in the school.

Baltimore County police said the anonymous caller telephoned Principal Lee Lindley's home Tuesday night.

Investigators checked 400 unused lockers Tuesday night then set to work cutting off locks which could not be opened through use of a list of lock combinations.

Homer O. Elseroad, assistant superintendent of schools, said officials were convinced from the outset the call was the work of a scaremonger but because of other school disorders elsewhere in the nation it was decided to call off classes as a precautionary measure.

Appeals Court Rules Egypt Declared War

BALTIMORE (AP) — Egypt declared war on England and France in the fall of 1956, a federal court of appeals ruled today.

A two-sentence opinion handed down by the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals held that owners of three Panamanian ships were justified in canceling time charters for the vessels under a war clause.

The clause permits cancellations if war were declared on a NATO nation.

The appeals courts' decision upheld a ruling by Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen in Baltimore.

The opinion was signed by Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff and Judges Morris A. Soper and Clement F. Haynesworth Jr. Arguments were heard by the appeals court last Friday.

The suit was brought by Navios Corp., a subsidiary of U.S. Steel, against the Panama owners of three ships, Ulysses II, Elpis and Loida.

Navios had asked the court to assess damages against the shipowners who canceled long-term charters for the ships Nov. 5, 1956, citing the declaration of war clause.

Navios contended Egypt had not declared war during the 1956 Near East crisis when British and French forces landed forces at Suez.

Judge Thomsen dismissed the claim, citing a speech by Egyptian President Nasser on Nov. 1, 1956, in which Nasser vowed "total war" against the invading forces.

The higher court upheld this view.

Post Office Safe Disappears

NANTICOKE, Md. (AP) — The disappearance of a safe from the post office here was being investigated Tuesday by State police and the Wicomico County sheriff.

Mrs. Alice Walter, postmistress, said the safe was taken sometime during the weekend and she discovered its disappearance when she opened the place Monday. She said it contained about $700 in cash, some postal stamps, savings stamps, blank money orders and duck hunting license stamps. Also missing were six parcel post packages and a postal cash register book, she said.

Investigators said a screen and window were forced. They theorized the job was the work of experienced burglars because the 30-by-20-inch safe apparently was taken through the window without scratching the painted woodwork.

The oldest known map in the world was produced about 4,500 years ago. A clay tablet unearthed in ruins 200 miles north of Babylon is preserved in the museum of Harvard library.

Rockefeller Not Like His Grandpa

Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller was named for his maternal grandfather, but is unlike Grandpa in almost every respect. The New York governor-elect is widely considered a "modern," which is to say a "liberal," Republican. Sen. Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island (1841-1915), who died seven years after his namesake was born, was long the recognized leader of the GOP Old Guard in the Senate.

Sen. Aldrich was anathema to the liberal—then called "progressive"—Republicans of his day. Like the father of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), he early made himself a millionaire. In his 30 years in the Senate, he was the darling of every fellow Croesus.

An ardent protectionist, he fought against tariff reciprocity as ardently, and effectively, as he fought for higher import duties. He was the outstanding leader in Congress against reform measures espoused by the President of his own party. He tried to subordinate the Presidency to Congress as staunchly as the first Roosevelt was trying to eclipse Capitol Hill by the White House.

Sen. Aldrich did perform one highly constructive task: a detailed plan for fundamentally revising the banking and currency system. Although the Aldrich Plan was shelved in favor of the Federal Reserve system put across by a Democratic President, Wilson, some of the Aldrich proposals did carry across to Federal Reserve provisions. And in one respect, at least, the Senator was like his grandson-namesake: he had a most agreeable personality and considerable charm of manner.

Do We Owe Them Money?

Every morning, I receive quite a few documents from foreign governments designed to give me information on various subjects. Much of it is hardly worth the postage, but then men need jobs, and women need them, too.

Admittedly it is impossible for anyone to read all this material, but an occasional sampling brings forth something useful. Such a one is "For the Record," published by the Arab Information Center, which is a complaint that the United States gives more money to Israel than to the Arab states. That may or may not be a fact, but it is our money and we can do with it as we like. We owe nothing to the Arabs or to Israel and if we do them a favor by giving them some money, they ought to be grateful for our generosity and sympathy and not give us any lip about how we should spend our own dough.

These Arabs have worked it out statistically. It seems that they figure that the "American taxpayer has on the average paid thirty-five cents per year for each Arab." "For the Record" thinks that that is too little. If it is bakhsheesh (a gentle word for graft in their tongue), it may be too little, but actually what is this money being paid for? The report does not say. It only says that Israel gets more.

Let me quote a paragraph from this Arab document, published in the United States for American consumption:

"No matter which way one looks at these assistance statistics, the United States Government has given considerably more help to Israel than to all the Arab countries. There can be little wonder that informed quarters have expressed strong criticism of American economic policies in the Middle Eastern and North African areas. There is little wonder that the belief has spread among many Middle Easterners that the United States has not only ignored the Arab states, but that it positively supports certain states over the Arab states."

So what?

Suppose we decide to give no American money to any country unless we get a quid pro quo; that is something for something. What will these Arabs give us that we have not contracted and paid for by now?

The sad fact about foreign aid is that many countries no longer recognize that this is a charity to them, an act of generosity on the part of the American people. They have been aided so freely that they have come to believe that it is coming to them, that we are, in effect, bribing them to do something for us. That is why some countries are putting conditions on foreign aid—"no strings attached."

It is well-nigh time to remind such countries that the choice is still ours and also that we do not care whether they do go to Soviet Russia for aid. Let the Russians go broke sending their material wealth to weak and backward countries. These governments need a dose of Russian instructors and experts and organizers. Nehru let them in and now the state of Kerala is Communist. Suddenly Nehru is beginning to realize what a Trojan Horse can mean.

This is not merely an Arab question. Whoever put out this piece of propaganda is a poor hand at the job. Instead of licking the boot of his benefactor, he tries to bite the calf of his leg because he gives some other country a little more. It proves nothing; it changes nothing; but it shows his boss that he writes copy. Maybe my paying attention to it will save the guy's job.

But the tone of this document is universal. Nations instead of looking after themselves have become impudent and demanding and act as though the United States owes them a living. Rapidly we are becoming the prey of a gang of blackmailers who make increasing demands and threaten to go over to the Russkies if we do not come across.

Well, let them go over. If there is a war, it will be fought by weapons that have annihilated time and space and these countries which believe that they have something to sell to one side or the other will soon enough discover that a missile does not even recognize that they are on the map. It is time to show that to some of the blackmailers with charts.

Russia Scores Its First Penetration In Latin-America With Sizeable Loan

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — While we were engrossed in Quemoy, elections, and football, Russia quietly stepped into Argentina and copped a $100,000,000 loan-deal whereby she sends Russian technicians and equipment to develop the potentially wealthy Argentine oil fields.

This is a victory which would have made President James Monroe, author of the Monroe Doctrine, shudder. It is the first real penetration of a major Latin power by the Soviet, and would not have happened had it not been for a series of American snafus, plus the current policy of making our good neighbors back-yard playmates. Here are the U.S. snafus which helped Moscow:

SNAFU No. 1 came during the Argentine election when the State Department took no pains to hide its preference for candidate Ricardo Balbin of the Radical Civic Union party's right wing. He had Little chance to win, but the State Department didn't like Arturo Frondizi because he was openly wooing Peron votes.

Frondizi won in a landslide.

SNAFU NO. 2 came when Frondizi was inaugurated. To heal past wounds, Secretary Dulles arranged that Vice President Nixon include Argentina in his Latin-American tour. But in Buenos Aires, Nixon didn't gauge his time accurately. He got caught in a traffic jam, shook hands with too many people, arrived at the inauguration after the swearing-in ceremony was over. Argentine-U.S. relations were not thawed.

SNAFU No. 3 took place when Assistant Secretary of State Roy Rubottom, a good man, went to Buenos Aires for another try at warming things up. He suggested to President Frondizi that U.S. firms help develop Argentina's laggard petroleum industry.

Oil Company Influence??

Frondizi countered by asking for an Export-Import Bank loan for oil equipment so Argentina could do its own developing. He wanted a straight business loan with no strings attached.

Rubottom, however, had strings attached to his own power to negotiate. For John Foster Dulles has made it definite Eisenhower administration policy that no U.S. money shall be loaned to any Latin-American government which might compete with American oil companies. This has griped Mexico, Brazil, Argentina. But it has been firm Eisenhower policy.

Dulles has been accused of adopting this policy to help Standard Oil of N. J., which company the Dulles law firm has long represented. Others have accused such men as ex-Undersecretary Herbert Hoover Jr., an oilman, and Undersecretary of State Christian Herter, whose wife is an oil millionairess, of favoring the big oil companies. The accusations may be unfair, but the fact that the State Department has stuck doggedly to this policy has made Latin Americans believe them. Rubottom, hamstrung, made some counterproposals. Frondizi gave no reply.

His reply came later, in the form of the $100,000,000 loan from Russia with part of the money being spent on Soviet oil equipment and for the salaries of several hundred engineers and technicians. Frondizi granted Russia what he hadn't granted the United States. The reason was irritation at Washington's snafus.

Jaycees Combat Hate

Here is a message which the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Coffeyville, Kans., sent to the citizens of Clinton, Tenn., after their school was blown up by hate-mongers:

"GREETINGS — From the 100 freedom loving American Jaycees of Coffeyville, Kans. to the citizens of Clinton, Tenn. The 200 friendship bricks the enclosed check represents will replace only a sma'l portion of the public school building destroyed by the wanton Hitlerite tactics of psychopathic fanatics, but we hope to start an avalanche of contributions to give you nev faith that the majority of people in these United States believe that government should be of laws rather than men.

"There can be no excuse for the deplorable acts of violence suffered by your community. . . . it is regrettable that President Eisenhower did not receive your representatives when they tried to see him. But the Jaycees of Coffeyville hope that fellow Jaycees over the nation recognize and support your need for funds, and that the nation's millions of school children are given a practical lesson in basic Americanism by informing them fully of this tragedy. Our children should regard it as a rare privilege to participate and contribute to a truly American cause."

Backstage With The Diplomats

Virtually all the foreign embassies — except Nationalist China — were secretly pleased at the results of the recent elections.

Most of the ambassadors reported to their governments that the United States will now become more responsible in dealing with foreign countries. One West European ambassador predicted the Democrats will clip the wings of Secretary Dulles and make him tone down his brinkmanship statements.

However, George Yeh, ambassador of Nationalist China, was very gloomy, particularly at the defeat of Senator Knowland, the so-called "Senator from Formosa." Yeh figures this may be the end of all Senate support for Chiang Kai-Shek.

Brooks Hays' Defeat Called Political Tragedy

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Poor Brooks Hays! One of the finest men in Congress — a spiritual leader as well as a statesman — went down to defeat last week at Little Rock.

But it was not a defeat intended to be administered to him as an individual. For he was well liked and had made a good record in his 16 years in the House of Representatives. It was a voting demonstration based on the principle of free expression by the people of a Congressional District who were determined to use the opportunity of a last-minute "write in" vote to register their deep-seated opinions on the segregation issue.

Responsibility for the political tragedy rests to no small extent upon those outside critics who have provoked bitter resentments among the people of Arkansas. It is not, for instance, a demonstration of the defiance of the law of the land — as one northern critic called it last week — when the people of a district, by their votes, express themselves against integration or on any issue, no matter how controversial it may be. It is this sort of extremism that has made the well-intentioned course of Brooks Hays as a "moderate" doubly difficult with his own people. The resentment of the voters of Arkansas has been intensified by what they regard as an unwillingness of people in other parts of the country to take into account the fears of the people of the South, especially the women folks, concerning the possible consequences of school integration.

When will the tragic dispute over desegregation be viewed realistically everywhere, and when will the fears that lie deep in the hearts of the southern people be fully understood, and the underlying facts of the controversy itself be revealed? Certainly not as long as news about the conflict is suppressed, or public discussion is squelched, or the feelings of the people of the South are disregarded on the all-important subject of social life in the schools and possible intermarriage — the true barrier to integration.

On this very point, a significant speech was made recently by Allan Nevins, long-time professor of American history at Columbia University, a two-time Pulitzer Prize winner, and one of Adlai Stevenson's advisers in the last presidential campaign.

Professor Nevins is emphatically in favor of desegregation and calls upon the southern people to face reality, as he tells them that inter-marriage between the races in the coming years is "inevitable." Professor Nevins made his speech at Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois, at ceremonies incident to the centennial of the Lincoln-Douglas debates. The authorized transcript, obtained from the Knox College offices, gives this report of what Professor Nevins said:

"Lincoln asked the South not to flinch from the hard fact that slavery must end; that the section must revolutionize its economic and social system.

"It was a very grim, cruel fact indeed. But we face one today just as harsh, and we flinch before it as Americans flinched in 1858. It is this: that once the Negro is as well educated, as well mannered, as well paid, as well dressed and well guided as the white man, once the colored race has become socially, economically and culturally the absolute equal of the white race, as it must become if we carry out the precepts of the declaration of independence, then intermarriage will become frequent.

"A mingling of the races will proceed with increasing rapidity.

"Nobody will advocate that as an object, but it will be an inevitable result.

"It is as unpopular to say this in Galesburg in 1958 as it was unpopular for Lincoln to say in 1858 that slavery must be put in the path of extinction.

"But the generation of 1958 must accept this hard, grim fact, not evade it, and must make plans for meeting it.

"What plans? In broad terms, we must plan, North and South, to raise the Negro race to a plane in character, cultivation and manners where it will be entirely fit to intermarry with the white race.

"As a historian, I do not for a moment believe that, in our mighty American river of many nationalities, two currents can flow side by side down the centuries without ultimately becoming one.

"At first the fusion will be imperceptible; then it will be perceptible but slow; then it will move with a rush.

"I could cite a dozen analogies from history to prove that such a process is inexorable, irresistible.

"Any sociologist could cite a dozen reasons why it is inevitable.

"As I say, we should not regard it as an object of our obedience to the Declaration of Independence; but we must school ourselves to accept it as a final result."

There is a feeling in the South that if the problem of integrated schools has a sociological aspect — as the Supreme Court of the United States ruled in 1954 — then it is not fair to take into account some sociological factors and ignore the others. Hence Professor Nevins' remarks, while delivered with the object of promoting acceptance of integration, will serve also to underline the true objections of the opponents of integration.

Peptic Ulcer Is A Lifetime Health Problem

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

From 4 to 10 per cent of our population have had peptic ulcer at some time in their life. The majority are middle-aged but children and babies are not exempt. Just recently I saw a boy of 12 with a duodenal ulcer and he had an X-ray to prove it. He said, "I complained of stomach ache for a long time and finally our doctor had an X-ray taken and was surprised to find an ulcer."

As soon as the cause of this young fellow's abdominal discomfort was discovered, he was given a diet along with tablets that reduced acid secretion and slowed the churning movement of the stomach. Pain disappeared in less than a week and a second X-ray showed the lesion had disappeared.

Ulcers are more common in men, presumably because of the stress and strain of bringing home the bacon. However, more women than men had ulcer at the turn of the century; the hourglass corsets of that era were thought to be responsible.

Many varieties of stress situations result in ulceration of the stomach or duodenum. This is logical because the nervous system controls the motility of the stomach and the production of acid. But there is more to the problem than stress because many persons who live and work under identical conditions never develop ulcers.

In all probability, the ulcer victim is in a class by himself and is destined from birth to develop this lesion under certain conditions. This explains why a man who has had one bout must be careful for the rest of his life, to prevent recurrences.

Distress is most likely to return after indiscretions in diet, resumption of smoking, alcoholic excesses, and during periods of stress and strain in work or family relationships, or when severe emotional upsets occur for any reason. These instigators are mentioned to forewarn the individual who has had ulcers.

Anyone with a lifetime disorder should learn as much about his condition as possible — the sooner the better. For this reason, hospital treatment is advised for every new ulcer patient. There is no better place to get instruction on the nature of the disease. In addition, suggestions are made on changes necessary in the way of life so that healing of the ulcer will be complete.

FLABBINESS

R. W. writes: I bought a small hand vibrator to reduce my flabby abdomen. But every time I use it my stomach gets sore. Is this harmful?

REPLY

Yes, in that soreness is not normal. There are better ways to reduce the size of the tummy —i.e. exercise and weight loss.

INFECTED LUNG

T. L. writes: Is pneumonitis pneumonia?

REPLY

Both represent inflammation of the lung, and, for practical purposes, are the same but they differ pathologically. Certain organisms such as streptococci and viruses are more likely to produce pneumonitis than pneumonia.

LIVER INFECTION

D. M. writes: Does it take a long time to get over a virus infection of the liver?

REPLY

In some instances, fatigue persists for some time after the infection subsides. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on viral hepatitis.

SLOW GROWING CANCERS

T. M. writes: Can skin cancer last as long as 10 years?

REPLY

Yes. Skin cancers grow slowly as cancers go, but the majority would prove fatal before the end of 10 years if they are untreated.

CHLORINATED WATER

S.W. writes: Does the chlorine used in swimming pools harm the eyes?

REPLY

No, but if there is too much in the water and the individual stays in the pool for a long time, the eyes may burn and become irritated.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

The application is for a Guide Dog. The woman is Mrs. Florence Lootsma. The facts are in the blank spaces: "Age: 50. Sex. Fem. Marital Status: Widow. Is any other member of your family blind: No.

"Do you read braille: No. Date blindness occurred: 1914. Cause of blindness: Accident. Degree of blindness: Total.

"Occupation before blindness: None. After blindness: Typist and dictaphone opr. At present: Unemployed. List the pets in your household: 1 parakeet. Do you have a backyard: Yes. Nearest vacant lots: 2 blocks away. Describe conditions under which dog must work: Streets very irregular. No curbs."

"Personal note: I had a German shepherd named Gretta. She was a wonderful guide and very smart. She and I went to work every day, in all kinds of weather for ten years. Then she became crippled in her hind quarters and the doctor told me, time after time, that she was suffering. I finally had to put her to sleep. If I should ever be so fortunate to get another guide half as good as Gretta, I would be more than satisfied. She knew everyone in the neighborhood. They all liked her and made a big fuss over her. She knew all the shops where I frequented and she was very alert."

"Dear Mrs. Lootsma: In order to be eligible for a Second Sight Guide Dog, applicant must be totally blind, or possess such little light perception as not to interfere with the proper use of the dog [illegible]e. Applicant must be in good health, need the dog for constructive purposes, and have adequate housing for the care of the dog.

"The average training period in residence is four weeks. There is no charge to the recipient for any of our services. This includes a Second Sight Guide Dog, one month's training in its use and care, and transportation to and from the school in Long Island."

Six months later:

"I want to thank you all for your kindness while I was at the school. It was real work for me, since I haven't walked that fast in a long long time. I enjoyed every minute of it. You all had so much patience!

"Zelda and I are getting along [illegible] t fine. The first week we took short walks around the neighborhood. We got lost once and went into the wrong court. They all 'look' alike to me. Yesterday, I went shopping for shoes. Zelda works like a dream. Everyone in the store made a big to-do over her, but she sat just like Princess Pat. I don't think she batted an eyelash.

"You see, I'm still the doting parent. It would have been grand if I could have called her Gretta the Second. Many, many, many thanks.

"Sincerely,
Florence and Zelda."

A month later:

"We are getting along just great. Find myself calling her Gretta from time to time, but she doesn't mind. She loves to go, no matter what the hour. Seems to enjoy riding in a car, always stands with her head out the window. Gave her some ice cream yesterday. She licks the dish all over the room. My angel is spoiled. I will never stop being grateful, and I wish I could help you more because I know Second Sight exists on the contributions of strangers. Can you use a special prayer? Florence Lootsma."

Winter letter:

"The vet says I am like an old maid with a child. Perhaps. When we were snowed in, took Zelda in the backyard and Zelda and the shepherd downstairs had a grand time running their legs off after snowballs which I threw."

The last item is a card with Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year on it. The photo is of a dog with big antennae ears and tongue hanging out. It is signed: "Florence and Zelda."

It's just a file. But it tells a story. . .

Rockefeller Not Like His Grandpa

Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller was named for his maternal grandfather, but is unlike Grandpa in almost every respect. The New York governor-elect is widely considered a "modern," which is to say a "liberal," Republican. Sen. Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island (1841-1915), who died seven years after his namesake was born, was long the recognized leader of the GOP Old Guard in the Senate.

Sen. Aldrich was anathema to the liberal—then called "progressive"—Republicans of his day. Like the father of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), he early made himself a millionaire. In his 30 years in the Senate, he was the darling of every fellow Croesus.

An ardent protectionist, he fought against tariff reciprocity as ardently, and effectively, as he fought for higher import duties. He was the outstanding leader in Congress against reform measures espoused by the President of his own party. He tried to subordinate the Presidency to Congress as staunchly as the first Roosevelt was trying to eclipse Capitol Hill by the White House.

Sen. Aldrich did perform one highly constructive task: a detailed plan for fundamentally revising the banking and currency system. Although the Aldrich Plan was shelved in favor of the Federal Reserve system put across by a Democratic President, Wilson, some of the Aldrich proposals did carry across to Federal Reserve provisions. Brooks Hays' Defeat Called Political Tragedy

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Poor Brooks Hays! One of the finest men in Congress — a spiritual leader as well as a statesman — went down to defeat last week at Little Rock.

"What plans? In broad terms, we must plan, North and South, to raise the Negro race to a plane in character, cultivation and manners where it will be entirely fit to intermarry with the white race.

"As a historian, I do not for a moment believe that, in our mighty American river of many nationalities, two currents can flow side by side down the centuries without ultimately becoming one.

"At first the fusion will be imperceptible; then it will be perceptible but slow; then it will move with a rush.

"I could cite a dozen analogies from history to prove that such a process is inexorable, irresistible.

"Any sociologist could cite a dozen reasons why it is inevitable.

"As I say, we should not regard it as an object of our obedience to the Declaration of Independence; but we must school ourselves to accept it as a final result."

There is a feeling in the South that if the problem of integrated schools has a sociological aspect — as the Supreme Court of the United States ruled in 1954 — then it is not fair to take into account some sociological factors and ignore the others. Hence Professor Nevins' remarks, while delivered with the object of promoting acceptance of integration, will serve also to underline the true objections of the opponents of integration.

You're Telling Me!

Still another big time football coach is hung in effigy. Grandpappy Jenkins says that's stretching things too far.

"Snow Coats Northeast"—newspaper headline. As the office poet puts it: "Snow coats bring o'coats!"

The hassle over whether the corn tassle or the rose should be our national floral emblem continues. With our eye on that up-coming Thanksgiving Day feast we'd like to suggest a third choice the cranberry blossom.

A black mare broke loose, dashed up and down an Atlanta expressway, tying up traffic. A dark horse that ran all too well?

A Chicago men's shop was rifled of its entire stock of suits, shirts, sports coats and slacks. Maybe the cops should be on the lookout for well-dressed burglars walking around barefooted.

Receiving sets were not installed in 42 San Francisco schools in time for the start of an educational TV program. Just a case of the pupils playing hookey from classes—but involuntary.

Peptic Ulcer Is A Lifetime Health Problem

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

From 4 to 10 per cent of our population have had peptic ulcer at some time in their life. The majority are middle-aged but children and babies are not exempt. Just recently I saw a boy of 12 with a duodenal ulcer and he had an X-ray to prove it. He said, "I complained of stomach ache for a long time and finally our doctor had an X-ray taken and was surprised to find an ulcer."

As soon as the cause of this young fellow's abdominal discomfort was discovered, he was given a diet along with tablets that reduced acid secretion and slowed the churning movement of the stomach. Pain disappeared in less than a week and a second X-ray showed the lesion had disappeared.

Ulcers are more common in men, presumably because of the stress and strain of bringing home the bacon. However, more women than men had ulcer at the turn of the century; the hourglass corsets of that era were thought to be responsible.

Many varieties of stress situations result in ulceration of the stomach or duodenum. This is logical because the nervous system controls the motility of the stomach and the production of acid. But there is more to the problem than stress because many persons who live and work under identical conditions never develop ulcers.

In all probability, the ulcer victim is in a class by himself and is destined from birth to develop this lesion under certain conditions. This explains why a man who has had one bout must be careful for the rest of his life, to prevent recurrences.

Distress is most likely to return after indiscretions in diet, resumption of smoking, alcoholic excesses, and during periods of stress and strain in work or family relationships, or when severe emotional upsets occur for any reason. These instigators are mentioned to forewarn the individual who has had ulcers.

Anyone with a lifetime disorder should learn as much about his condition as possible — the sooner the better. For this reason, hospital treatment is advised for every new ulcer patient. There is no better place to get instruction on the nature of the disease. In addition, suggestions are made on changes necessary in the way of life so that healing of the ulcer will be complete.

FLABBINESS

R. W. writes: I bought a small hand vibrator to reduce my flabby abdomen. But every time I use it my stomach gets sore. Is this harmful?

REPLY

Yes, in that soreness is not normal. There are better ways to reduce the size of the tummy —i.e. exercise and weight loss.

INFECTED LUNG

T. L. writes: Is pneumonitis pneumonia?

REPLY

Both represent inflammation of the lung, and, for practical purposes, are the same but they differ pathologically. Certain organisms such as streptococci and viruses are more likely to produce pneumonitis than pneumonia.

LIVER INFECTION

D. M. writes: Does it take a long time to get over a virus infection of the liver?

REPLY

In some instances, fatigue persists for some time after the infection subsides. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on viral hepatitis.

SLOW GROWING CANCERS

T. M. writes: Can skin cancer last as long as 10 years?

REPLY

Yes. Skin cancers grow slowly as cancers go, but the majority would prove fatal before the end of 10 years if they are untreated.

CHLORINATED WATER

S.W. writes: Does the chlorine used in swimming pools harm the eyes?

REPLY

No, but if there is too much in the water and the individual stays in the pool for a long time, the eyes may burn and become irritated.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

It isn't easy for a 9-year-old kid to spell "s-t-r-a-i-g-h-t," but one lad in a Las Vegas school made the grade. "Good," said the teacher. "Now tell us what it means." The kid answered promptly, "Without soda or ginger ale."

A blase Englishman shaded his eyes from the sun and looked up at the Empire State building. "Interesting edifice," he conceded. "I take it it was designed to give the impression of height?"

Dick Powell stumbled over an old gravestone in western Texas that bore this eyebrow-raising epitaph:

Here lies a man in perfect bliss.
Ain't nothin' in this world he'll miss.
The Injuns killed old Sam Gettson.

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — While we were engrossed in Quemoy, elections, and football, Russia quietly stepped into Argentina and copped a $100,000,000 loan-deal whereby she sends Russian technicians and equipment to develop the potentially wealthy Argentine oil fields.

This is a victory which would have made President James Monroe, author of the Monroe Doctrine, shudder. It is the first real penetration of a major Latin power by the Soviet, and would not have happened had it not been for a series of American snafus, plus the current policy of making our good neighbors back-yard playmates. Here are the U.S. snafus which helped Moscow:

SNAFU No. 1 came during the Argentine election when the State Department took no pains to hide its preference for candidate Ricardo Balbin of the Radical Civic Union party's right wing. He had Little chance to win, but the State Department didn't like Arturo Frondizi because he was openly wooing Peron votes.

Frondizi won in a landslide.

SNAFU NO. 2 came when Frondizi was inaugurated. To heal past wounds, Secretary Dulles arranged that Vice President Nixon include Argentina in his Latin-American tour. But in Buenos Aires, Nixon didn't gauge his time accurately. He got caught in a traffic jam, shook hands with too many people, arrived at the inauguration after the swearing-in ceremony was over. Argentine-U.S. relations were not thawed.

SNAFU No. 3 took place when Assistant Secretary of State Roy Rubottom, a good man, went to Buenos Aires for another try at warming things up. He suggested to President Frondizi that U.S. firms help develop Argentina's laggard petroleum industry.

Oil Company Influence??

Frondizi countered by asking for an Export-Import Bank loan for oil equipment so Argentina could do its own developing. He wanted a straight business loan with no strings attached.

Rubottom, however, had strings attached to his own power to negotiate. For John Foster Dulles has made it definite Eisenhower administration policy that no U.S. money shall be loaned to any Latin-American government which might compete with American oil companies. This has griped Mexico, Brazil, Argentina. But it has been firm Eisenhower policy.

Dulles has been accused of adopting this policy to help Standard Oil of N. J., which company the Dulles law firm has long represented. Others have accused such men as ex-Undersecretary Herbert Hoover Jr., an oilman, and Undersecretary of State Christian Herter, whose wife is an oil millionairess, of favoring the big oil companies. The accusations may be unfair, but the fact that the State Department has stuck doggedly to this policy has made Latin Americans believe them. Rubottom, hamstrung, made some counterproposals. Frondizi gave no reply.

His reply came later, in the form of the $100,000,000 loan from Russia with part of the money being spent on Soviet oil equipment and for the salaries of several hundred engineers and technicians. Frondizi granted Russia what he hadn't granted the United States. The reason was irritation at Washington's snafus.

Jaycees Combat Hate

Here is a message which the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Coffeyville, Kans., sent to the citizens of Clinton, Tenn., after their school was blown up by hate-mongers:

"GREETINGS — From the 100 freedom loving American Jaycees of Coffeyville, Kans. to the citizens of Clinton, Tenn. The 200 friendship bricks the enclosed check represents will replace only a small portion of the public school building destroyed by the wanton Hitlerite tactics of psychopathic fanatics, but we hope to start an avalanche of contributions to give you new faith that the majority of people in these United States believe that government should be of laws rather than men.

"There can be no excuse for the deplorable acts of violence suffered by your community. . . . it is regrettable that President Eisenhower did not receive your representatives when they tried to see him. But the Jaycees of Coffeyville hope that fellow Jaycees over the nation recognize and support your need for funds, and that the nation's millions of school children are given a practical lesson in basic Americanism by informing them fully of this tragedy. Our children should regard it as a rare privilege to participate and contribute to a truly American cause."

Backstage With The Diplomats

Virtually all the foreign embassies — except Nationalist China — were secretly pleased at the results of the recent elections.

Most of the ambassadors reported to their governments that the United States will now become more responsible in dealing with foreign countries. One West European ambassador predicted the Democrats will clip the wings of Secretary Dulles and make him tone down his brinkmanship statements.

However, George Yeh, ambassador of Nationalist China, was very gloomy, particularly at the defeat of Senator Knowland, the so-called "Senator from Formosa." Yeh figures this may be the end of all Senate support for Chiang Kai-Shek.

By Jim Bishop

It's just a file. But it tells a story. . .

The application is for a Guide Dog. The woman is Mrs. Florence Lootsma. The facts are in the blank spaces: "Age: 50. Sex. Fem. Marital Status: Widow. Is any other member of your family blind: No.

"Do you read braille: No. Date blindness occurred: 1914. Cause of blindness: Accident. Degree of blindness: Total.

"Occupation before blindness: None. After blindness: Typist and dictaphone opr. At present: Unemployed. List the pets in your household: 1 parakeet. Do you have a backyard: Yes. Nearest vacant lots: 2 blocks away. Describe conditions under which dog must work: Streets very irregular. No curbs."

"Personal note: I had a German shepherd named Gretta. She was a wonderful guide and very smart. She and I went to work every day, in all kinds of weather for ten years. Then she became crippled in her hind quarters and the doctor told me, time after time, that she was suffering. I finally had to put her to sleep. If I should ever be so fortunate to get another guide half as good as Gretta, I would be more than satisfied. She knew everyone in the neighborhood. They all liked her and made a big fuss over her. She knew all the shops where I frequented and she was very alert."

"Dear Mrs. Lootsma: In order to be eligible for a Second Sight Guide Dog, applicant must be totally blind, or possess such little light perception as not to interfere with the proper use of the dog e. Applicant must be in good health, need the dog for constructive purposes, and have adequate ousing for the care of the dog.

"The average training period in residence is four weeks. There is no charge to the recipient for any of our services. This includes a Second Sight Guide Dog, one month's training in its use and care, and transportation to and from the school in Long Island."

Six months later:

"I want to thank you all for your kindness while I was at the school. It was real work for me, since I haven't walked that fast in a long long time. I enjoyed every minute of it. You all had so much patience!

"Zelda and I are getting along t fine. The first week we took short walks around the neighborhood. We got lost once and went into the wrong court. They all 'look' alike to me. Yesterday, I went shopping for shoes. Zelda works like a dream. Everyone in the store made a big to-do over her, but she sat just like Princess Pat. I don't think she batted an eyelash.

"You see, I'm still the doting parent. It would have been grand if I could have called her Gretta the Second. Many, many, many thanks.

"Sincerely,

Florence and Zelda."

A month later:

"We are getting along just great. Find myself calling her Gretta from time to time, but she doesn't mind. She loves to go, no matter what the hour. Seems to enjoy riding in a car, always stands with her head out the window. Gave her some ice cream yesterday. She licks the dish all over the room. My angel is spoiled. I will never stop being grateful, and I wish I could help you more because I know Second Sight exists on the contributions of strangers. Can you use a special prayer? Florence Lootsma."

Winter letter:

"The vet says I am like an old maid with a child. Perhaps. When we were snowed in, took Zelda in the backyard and Zelda and the shepherd downstairs had a grand time running their legs off after snowballs which I threw."

The last item is a card with Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year on it. The photo is of a dog with big antennae ears and tongue hanging out. It is signed: "Florence and Zelda."

It's just a file. But it tells a story. . .

Rides 100 Winners Mighty Cross Tops — Ft. Hill Leads, 13-9 League To Disband

By C. V. BURNS

ROBERT E. "Bobby" Corle, 22-year-old jockey from Bedford, Pa., who suffered a fracture of the left leg last week when thrown by Shannondale the day before the Garden State Park meeting closed, has ridden over 100 winners this year on the major ovals.

The former Bedford High School wrestler had his greatest success at Atlantic City where he piloted 42 winners, 14 seconds and 13 thirds in 50 days. Among his riding feats were "triples" on successive days, Sept. 23 and 24.

"Bobby" rode in the $25,000 Appreciation Handicap there October 4 and finished third aboard Greek Star. Natagar was the winner with Backbone taking second money.

Earlier in the year he made racing fans sit up and take note at Delaware Park where he posted a record of 34-23-20 in 51 days.

At the recent Garden State session which closed Wednesday, the Pennsylvania saddlesmith booted 38 per cent of his 139 mounts "into the money" by finishing with an 18-18-17 record.

Corle also rode at the Laurel and Garden State spring meetings this year and was at Sunshine Park, Florida, last winter.

"Bobby," who did his first riding for Bill Irvine at Fairgo in 1955, looked good from the start and horsemen now say he is one of the most promising young jockeys in the business today.

At Garden State he finished second to Bill Hartack, who led with a 33-10-15 mark.

SAILOR'S GUIDE, winner of yesterday's International race at Laurel, was trained by J. Bowes Bond, of Maryland, who will be remembered as having raced many fine thoroughbreds at Fairgo during the 10-day meetings in the 1930s. Nelson and Bernard Bond also were leading trainers at the local half miler in those days.

Bowes Bond was the leading trainer here in 1935, having saddled seven winners the first year Cumberland changed over from five to ten-day sessions.

In 17 starts Mighty Cross has won 13 races, placed once and showed twice.

Mighty Cross ran here twice in September but failed to win. He finished second to Onyx Sept. 17 and was third back of Onyx and Babe Page Sept. 26.

Since his appearance here Mighty Cross has won five in a row and Jockey Jay Hause has been aboard each time.

WHATS' THIS we hear about Coach "Tack" Clark being awarded an honorary membership in Whitewashers Local No. 999½ because his Keyser High football teams have scored 21 shutout victories in three straight seasons?

That's 21 whitewashings in 32 games.

It was 7 out of 11 in 1956, the same in 1957 and 7 out of ten this year.

THE FORT EILL - Allegany game on Thanksgiving Day will be the 26th of the series between the local schools.

Fort Hill holds a 13-9 edge in wins. Three games ended in ties. The schools met twice in 1944, 1945 and 1946.

The crosstown rivals have hooked up in 22 Turkey Day games since 1936 and the Sentinels lead in wins, 11 to 9. Allegany's last win was in 1945. Since then the Sentinels have won 10 games. The 1948 and 1953 holiday contests were ties.

ACCORDING to a story out of Baltimore, the League of Maryland Sportsmen, for 15 years an active champion of outdoorsmen and their pursuits, is about ready to disband.

Strapped financially, the league's membership has shrunk from 87 clubs and 10,000 members to 59 clubs and 7,000 members in the past three years since the death of Glenn L. Martin, its founder and first president.

Mr. Martin personally staked the league for many years, donating $90,000 for operating expenses its first four years of existence. He gave $70,000 i 1955 alone.

Many of the organizations still in the league have indicated they have planned to drop out.

Rowley And Davis Named Fort Hill's Grid Co-Captains

Robert Rowley, tackle, and Thomas Davis, fullback, have been named honorary co-captains of the Fort Hill High School football team for the season and will direct the team in the final game of the campaign with Allegany High School on Thanksgiving Day, Coach William P. Hahn, announced last night.

Fort Hill has appointed captains for each of the eight previous games played this season.

Rowley and Davis have been regulars for two seasons.

Unitas Practices Despite Injuries

BALTIMORE (AP) — Quarterback Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts scampered around Memorial Stadium with his broken ribs Tuesday. He even threw the football a little.

Unitas said he was feeling good and the light practice didn't hurt him at all.

He turned out early with halfback L. G. Dupre before the National Football League club began its practice. When the Colts came out, Unitas and Dupre watched from the sidelines in civvies.

Schoendienst entered the hospital last week for a checkup.

In St. Louis, Dr. Martin could add little to what Davidson had already announced.

CHICAGO (AP) — Lightweight Frankie Ryff makes his second start under the managerial wing of old-time Champion Barney Ross Wednesday night against Chicago's newest fistic cutie, Eddie Perkins.

Because of an edge on experience, the 26-year-old Ryff has been gauged an 8-5 favorite for the nationally televised (ABC, 10 p.m. EST) 10-rounder in Chicago Stadium. Scoring will be on the five-point must system.

Ross stepped in as manager of the New York veteran a couple of months ago.

In 32 fights, he has won 24 by decision, 3 by kayoes.

He has won 11 out of 15 starts, 3 by KO's.

Pirates Add Dykes To Coaching Staff

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Jimmy Dykes, veteran major league strategist who posted a fine short-term managerial record with the Redlegs last season, Tuesday was added to the Pittsburgh Pirate coaching staff.

Dykes was appointed Cincinnati manager to finish out the 1958 season when Redleg manager Birdie Tebbets resigned on Aug. 14. At that time, the Redlegs were in the second division.

Cincinnati caught fire under Dykes and posted a .585 average for the remainder of the season to finish in fourth place.

Dykes' mark of 24 wins and 17 losses was the best among the five new major league managers this year.

Rides 100 Winners Mighty Cross Tops — Ft. Hill Leads, 13-9 League To Disband

By C. V. BURNS

ROBERT E. "Bobby" Corle, 22-year-old jockey from Bedford, Pa., who suffered a fracture of the left leg last week when thrown by Shannondale the day before the Garden State Park meeting closed, has ridden over 100 winners this year on the major ovals.

The former Bedford High School wrestler had his greatest success at Atlantic City where he piloted 42 winners, 14 seconds and 13 thirds in 50 days. Among his riding feats were "triples" on successive days, Sept. 23 and 24.

"Bobby" rode in the $25,000 Appreciation Handicap there October 4 and finished third aboard Greek Star. Natagar was the winner with Backbone taking second money.

Earlier in the year he made racing fans sit up and take note at Delaware Park where he posted a record of 34-23-20 in 51 days.

At the recent Garden State session which closed Wednesday, the Pennsylvania saddlesmith booted 38 per cent of his 139 mounts "into the money" by finishing with an 18-18-17 record.

Corle also rode at the Laurel and Garden State spring meetings this year and was at Sunshine Park, Florida, last winter.

"Bobby," who did his first riding for Bill Irvine at Fairgo in 1955, looked good from the start and horsemen now say he is one of the most promising young jockeys in the business today.

At Garden State he finished second to Bill Hartack, who led with a 33-10-15 mark.

SAILOR'S GUIDE, winner of yesterday's International race at Laurel, was trained by J. Bowes Bond, of Maryland, who will be remembered as having raced many fine thoroughbreds at Fairgo during the 10-day meetings in the 1930s. Nelson and Bernard Bond also were leading trainers at the local half miler in those days.

Bowes Bond was the leading trainer here in 1935, having saddled seven winners the first year Cumberland changed over from five to ten-day sessions.

MIGHTY CROSS, a 3-year-old colt, owned by Roy McClarin and trained by Mrs. G. A. "Babe" Saportas, of Monkton, Md., is one of the nation's winningest thoroughbreds this year.

In 17 starts Mighty Cross has won 13 races, placed once and showed twice.

Mighty Cross ran here twice in September but failed to win. He finished second to Onyx Sept. 17 and was third back of Onyx and Babe Page Sept. 26.

Since his appearance here Mighty Cross has won five in a row and Jockey Jay Hause has been aboard each time.

WHATS' THIS we hear about Coach "Tack" Clark being awarded an honorary membership in Whitewashers Local No. 999½ because his Keyser High football teams have scored 21 shutout victories in three straight seasons?

That's 21 whitewashings in 32 games.

It was 7 out of 11 in 1956, the same in 1957 and 7 out of ten this year.

THE FORT EILL - Allegany game on Thanksgiving Day will be the 26th of the series between the local schools.

Fort Hill holds a 13-9 edge in wins. Three games ended in ties. The schools met twice in 1944, 1945 and 1946.

The crosstown rivals have hooked up in 22 Turkey Day games since 1936 and the Sentinels lead in wins, 11 to 9. Allegany's last win was in 1945. Since then the Sentinels have won 10 games. The 1948 and 1953 holiday contests were ties.

ACCORDING to a story out of Baltimore, the League of Maryland Sportsmen, for 15 years an active champion of outdoorsmen and their pursuits, is about ready to disband.

Strapped financially, the league's membership has shrunk from 87 clubs and 10,000 members to 59 clubs and 7,000 members in the past three years since the death of Glenn L. Martin, its founder and first president.

Mr. Martin personally staked the league for many years, donating $90,000 for operating expenses its first four years of existence. He gave $70,000 f 1955 alone.

Many of the organizations still in the league have indicated they have planned to drop out.

Rowley And Davis Named Fort Hill's Grid Co-Captains

Robert Rowley, tackle, and Thomas Davis, fullback, have been named honorary co-captains of the Fort Hill High School football team for the season and will direct the team in the final game of the campaign with Allegany High School on Thanksgiving Day, Coach William P. Hahn, announced last night.

Fort Hill has appointed captains for each of the eight previous games played this season.

Unitas Practices Despite Injuries

BALTIMORE (AP) — Quarterback Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts scampered around Memorial Stadium with his broken ribs Tuesday. He even threw the football a little.

Unitas said he was feeling good and the light practice didn't hurt him at all.

He turned out early with halfback L. G. Dupre before the National Football League club began its practice. When the Colts came out, Unitas and Dupre watched from the sidelines in civvies.

Navy-Terps May Play In Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — There's a possibility Navy and Maryland may play their 1959 football game in the new Navy-Marine Corps Stadium here instead of Baltimore's huge Memorial Stadium.

Capt. Slade Cutter, Navy director of athletics, said Monday a decision on whether to move the game — the only Navy appearance scheduled for Baltimore next year — will hinge entirely on the outlook for a good draw.

Only 30,035 turned out for last Saturday's contest, including the midshipmen and Maryland students. Total paid attendance was estimated at only about 21,000 in the big Baltimore horseshoe which will seat up to 57,000.

Byrd Stadium at College Park will hold up to 44,000 with extra seats and the new Memorial Stadium to be completed here next year can accommodate up to 35,000 with bleachers.

Lundquist Upsets Ashley Cooper

ADELAIDE, Australia (UPI)—Jan Lundquist touched off a double-barrelled Swedish triumph over two of the world's leading amateur tennis players Tuesday at the South Australian championships by upsetting Ashley Cooper, Wimbledon and United States champion, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

Mal Anderson and Roy Emerson saved the other two semifinal berths for Australia while their Davis Cup teammates bowed to the Swedes. Anderson, former U.S. champion, ousted Ken Fletcher of Australia, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2, and Emerson defeated Nicola Petrangeli of Italy, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, in the other quarter-finals.

In the semifinals Thursday, Lundquist will play Emerson and Anderson will meet Schmidt.

Atoll Wins At Jamaica

Victor In Remsen 'Cap Earns $18,220

JAMAICA, N. Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—Four-Way Ranch's Atoll turned on the power in the stretch to win the 45th running of the $28,650 Remsen Handicap for 2 - year - olds at Jamaica Race Track today.

The 2-year-old homebred son of Slushing 2nd-Coral Island, ridden by Johnny Ruane, sped home by four and a half lengths in the moderate time of 1:44 3/5 for the mile and a sixteenth.

Briardale Farms' Rico Tesio was second a head in front of Pin Oak Farm's Derrick, who finished two lengths to the good of Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer, the even money favorite, who turned in a lacklustre effort.

The victory was worth $18,220.-50 net to H. George Schneider and Cecil R. Hayden, Houston, Tex. sportsman, who own Four-Way Ranch.

It was the fifth victory and second stakes score in 12 starts for Atoll, who shared top weight with sword dancer at 117 pounds. Atoll previously accounted for the Myles Standish at Suffolk Downs.

Second choice in the wagering with the big holiday crowd of 32,009, Atoll returned the across the board mutuels of $8.90, $4.80 and $4.00. Rico Tesio paid $5.30 and $4.00 and Derrick was $4.40 to show.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI) — When it comes to hanging up the points on the scoreboard three lads any coach would love to have are Bill Austin of Rutgers, Johnny Sheppard of Florida State and Ben Gross of Kansas State.

They're college football's leading specialists in touchdown production, extra point kicking and field goal booting.

Austin, sidelined with two broken bones in one hand, is so far out in front in a category known as "touchdown responsibility" he'll probably be the 1958 champ even if he doesn't play another minute on offense.

Sheppard, a senior halfback, is "automatic Jack" on those conversion points. He has kicked 18 of 20, strictly pro-style. Gross leads the nation in field goals with a total of five.

Austin Is Point Leader

Austin, a versatile tailback in Rutgers' modernized single wing system, has been responsible for more touchdowns and more total points than any player in the nation.

He has scored 11 touchdowns, pitched eight touchdown passes, scored six conversion points and passed for eight conversion points. That adds up to 128. His nearest rival is T-quarterback Billy Holsclaw of Virginia Tech with 84 points on three touchdowns running, nine passing, two conversion points scored, and 10 conversion points by passing.

Dick Thornton, Northwestern's dandy sophomore quarterback, is third in the nation in "point responsibility" with a total of 79. Thornton has scored five touchdowns, passed for six, scored five conversion points and passed for eight more.

Howard Cook of Colorado is fourth with a hand in 77 points including nine touchdown runs, three touchdown passes, two conversion points scored and one field goal.

Bass Scores On TD's

The rest of the top 10: Chuck Zimmerman of Syracuse (76 points), Dick Bass of College of Pacific (72), Frank Finney of Brown (71), Dick Longfellow of West Virginia (70), Bobby Franklin of Mississippi and Randy Duncan of Iowa tied for ninth with 68 each.

Out of that first 10, Bass is the only player who has confined his touchdown production to his specialty. The others have churned out touchdowns both by running and passing but Bass, for a while the nation's rushing leader, piled up all his 10 touchdowns by running. He has, however, accounted for eight conversion points by passing so obviously he's not a total loss as a tosser.

Next to Florida State's Sheppard as point - kicking marksmen are Charley Rash of Missouri with 13 of 15 and Bob Prescott of Iowa with 13 scored in 17 tries. Gross is two up on his nearest field goal rivals.

Carroll Promoted By Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics Tuesday elevated Parke Carroll to executive vice president and general manager. He had been vice president and business manager.

President Arnold Johnson announced the promotion. Carroll, who will have additional authority particularly in major league player trades, remains a member of the board of directors. Johnson has been handling most trades for the A's, including all those with the New York Yankees. Carroll was general manager of the Kansas City Blues for several years prior to Johnson's purchase of the Athletics.

Atoll Wins At Jamaica

Victor In Remsen 'Cap Earns $18,220

JAMAICA, N. Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—Four-Way Ranch's Atoll turned on the power in the stretch to win the 45th running of the $28,650 Remsen Handicap for 2-year-olds at Jamaica Race Track today.

The 2-year-old homebred son of Slushing 2nd-Coral Island, ridden by Johnny Ruane, sped home by four and a half lengths in the moderate time of 1:44 3/5 for the mile and a sixteenth.

Briardale Farms' Rico Tesio was second a head in front of Pin Oak Farm's Derrick, who finished two lengths to the good of Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer, the even money favorite, who turned in a lacklustre effort.

The victory was worth $18,220.50 net to H. George Schneider and Cecil R. Hayden, Houston, Tex. sportsman, who own Four-Way Ranch.

It was the fifth victory and second stakes score in 12 starts for Atoll, who shared top weight with sword dancer at 117 pounds. Atoll previously accounted for the Myles Standish at Suffolk Downs.

Second choice in the wagering with the big holiday crowd of 32,009, Atoll returned the across the board mutuels of $8.90, $4.80 and $4.00. Rico Tesio paid $5.30 and $4.00 and Derrick was $4.40 to show.

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI) — When it comes to hanging up the points on the scoreboard three lads any coach would love to have are Bill Austin of Rutgers, Johnny Sheppard of Florida State and Ben Gross of Kansas State.

They're college football's leading specialists in touchdown production, extra point kicking and field goal booting.

Austin, sidelined with two broken bones in one hand, is so far out in front in a category known as "touchdown responsibility" he'll probably be the 1958 champ even if he doesn't play another minute on offense.

Sheppard, a senior halfback, is "automatic Jack" on those conversion points. He has kicked 18 of 20, strictly pro-style. Gross leads the nation in field goals with a total of five.

Austin Is Point Leader

Austin, a versatile tailback in Rutgers' modernized single wing system, has been responsible for more touchdowns and more total points than any player in the nation.

He has scored 11 touchdowns, pitched eight touchdown passes, scored six conversion points and passed for eight conversion points. That adds up to 128. His nearest rival is T-quarterback Billy Holsclaw of Virginia Tech with 84 points on three touchdowns running, nine passing, two conversion points scored, and 10 conversion points by passing.

Dick Thornton, Northwestern's dandy sophomore quarterback, is third in the nation in "point responsibility" with a total of 79. Thornton has scored five touchdowns, passed for six, scored five conversion points and passed for eight more.

Howard Cook of Colorado is fourth with a hand in 77 points including nine touchdown runs, three touchdown passes, two conversion points scored and one field goal.

Bass Scores On TD's

The rest of the top 10: Chuck Zimmerman of Syracuse (76 points), Dick Bass of College of Pacific (72), Frank Finney of Brown (71), Dick Longfellow of West Virginia (70), Bobby Franklin of Mississippi and Randy Duncan of Iowa tied for ninth with 68 each.

Out of that first 10, Bass is the only player who has confined his touchdown production to his specialty. The others have churned out touchdowns both by running and passing but Bass, for a while the nation's rushing leader, piled up all his 10 touchdowns by running. He has, however, accounted for eight conversion points by passing so obviously he's not a total loss as a tosser.

Next to Florida State's Sheppard as point - kicking marksmen are Charley Rash of Missouri with 13 of 15 and Bob Prescott of Iowa with 13 scored in 17 tries. Gross is two up on his nearest field goal rivals.

KEYSER — The annual shoot conducted by the Boyce-Houser Post, American Legion, of Keyser, will be held three miles east of Mount Storm on the property of Snyder's Service Station, Saturday, November 22. Shells will be furnished by the post.

Carroll Promoted By Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics Tuesday elevated Parke Carroll to executive vice president and general manager. He had been vice president and business manager.

President Arnold Johnson announced the promotion. Carroll, who will have additional authority particularly in major league player trades, remains a member of the board of directors. Johnson has been handling most trades for the A's, including all those with the New York Yankees. Carroll was general manager of the Kansas City Blues for several years prior to Johnson's purchase of the Athletics.

Thanks

Sailor's Guide Declared International Winner On Foul

Tudor Era Is Disqualified, Ballymoss, Favorite, Is 3rd

Victor Pays $18.60, Zaryad Is Tenth, 40,276 Attend Race

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Sailor's Guide from Australia was declared the winner of the $100,000 Washington D. C. International Tuesday on a foul committed by Tudor Era, an American - owned horse who finished first by 3½ lengths.

Record 40,276 Attends

The largest crowd in Maryland racing history, 40,276 jammed this colorful 47 - year - old course. It roared with excitement as the 10 horses from seven countries fought it out and saw Sailor's Guide beat out the favored Ballymoss from Ireland by a head for second place.

Then more roars went up as the objection sign flashed on the totalisator board. The announcer said that the rider of Sailors' Guide, Howard Grant, claimed that Tudor Era crowded his horse on the first turn. It was the first foul claim in the history of the 7-year-old International, called the Olympics of horse racing.

Bill Harmatz, an American jockey along with Grant, was the rider on Tudor Era.

Moving pictures of the race, in which tremendous interest had been generated by the appearance of Ballymoss and two Russian horses, were studied by the stewards for 20 minutes. There were cheers and jeers when the number nine of Tudor Era came down to second place, and number 5, Sailor's Guide, went onto the board showing him the winner on a disqualification.

Zaryad Is Last

Garnir, winner of the Moscow Derby, finished sixth, while the other Soviet horse, Zaryad, played a Silky Sullivan and came in last. Zaryad, however, was left at the post in the walkup start, and never had a chance to try and set a pace for his stablemate.

It was California's Silky Sullivan who was a West Coast sensation with his come from behind rushes, but when the chips were down in the Kentucky Derby, he wasn't anywhere among the leaders.

Ironically, it was announced before the race the ultimate winner, owned by A. C. Dibb and his son Keith, Melbourne wool merchants, was to be sold for $50,000. The buyer, Dr. Leon Levi of Philadelphia and a director of the Atlantic City, N. J.,track, was to complete the deal after the race if Sailor's Guide came out second.

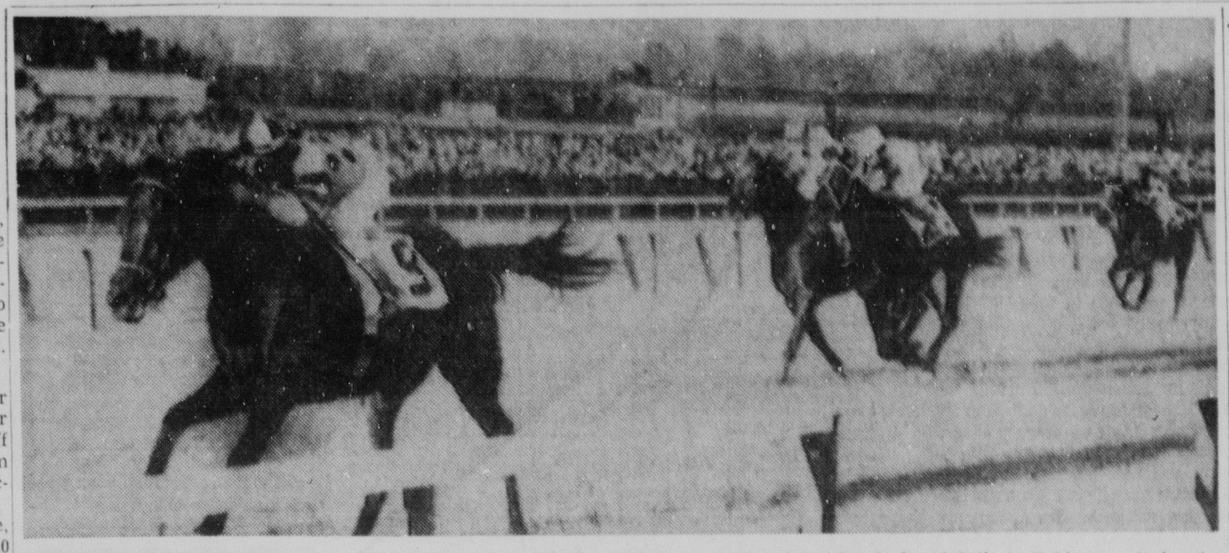
Win Worth $70,000

Sailor's Guide came out winner to the tune of $70,000, while Tudor Era's owner, Mrs. Herbert Herff of Memphis, Tenn., and Palm Beach, Fla., had to settle for second money of $15,000.

Ballymoss, champion of Europe, was the favorite at odds of $1.10 to $1, and is owned by John McShain of Philadelphia. He will retire to the stud in England.

Tudor Era's time for the mile and one half on the grass course was 2:33 1-5, compared with the International record of 2:30 4-5, set by England's Wilwyn in the inaugural in 1952.

Sailor's Guide paid a liberal $18.60, $8.00 and $4.00. Tudor Era, a 6 to 1 shot, was $7.60 and $4.00. Ballymoss was $2.40 to show.



INTERNATIONAL FINISH—Sailor's Guide (5) and Ballymoss (7) trail Tudor Era to the wire at the finish of the seventh $100,000 Washington, D. C. International yesterday at Laurel. At right is Ireland's Tharp (4). Jockey Howard Grant, aboard Sailor's Guide, claimed a foul and Sailor's Guide was declared the winner, paying $18.60. Tudor Era was second, Ballymoss, third, and Tharp, fourth. (AP Photofax)

Start good from flag for all but Zaryad. Won ridden out. Tudor Era broke alertly and was taken under stout restraint, set the pace under excellent rating and, after dropping in on Sailor's Guide entering the stretch the final time, drew clear under intermittent urging. He was disqualified for interfering with Sailor's Guide and was placed second. Sailor's Guide was in a rather precarious position along the hedge during much of the race, was taken up sharply entering the stretch while endeavoring to move through on the leader, then gave way gradually. Grant's claim of foul against the winner for interference was allowed. Ballymoss raced in contention, was bothered when Orsini 2nd hit him just before completing a turn of the course, recovered well to remain a factor until nearing the stretch, then drifted wide and failed to respond. Tharp appeared full of run while under rating early but lacked the needed response when set down. Orsini 2nd was placed on the outside after kicking repeatedly at the starting point, improved his position steadily until hitting the hedge after about seven furlongs, recovered to be prominent until the final quarter and faltered. Garnier weakened after having been prominent. Escribano was crowded after seven furlongs. Clem failed to recover after Ballymoss was knocked into him at the clubhouse turn. Revoque showed nothing. Zaryad broke far behind the field and was outrun. The start was delayed for considerable time, largely to Zaryad breaking through.

Meadow Bridge Wins, To Play For Title

MEADOW BRIDGE, W. Va. (UPI) — Meadow Bridge clinched itself a spot in the West Virginia Class A high school football playoff game Tuesday by defeating Marlinton 28-20 in another playoff.

This game was a playoff for the Greenbrier Valley Conference championship and sent the Wildcats into the state title game against Winfield, probably to be played at Dunbar on Nov. 22.

Sailor's Guide Declared International Winner On Foul

Victor Pays $18.60, Zaryad Is Tenth, 40,276 Attend Race

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Sailor's Guide from Australia was declared the winner of the $100,000 Washington D. C. International Tuesday on a foul committed by Tudor Era, an American - owned horse who finished first by 3½ lengths.

Record 40,276 Attends

The largest crowd in Maryland racing history, 40,276 jammed this colorful 47 - year - old course. It roared with excitement as the 10 horses from seven countries fought it out and saw Sailor's Guide beat out the favored Ballymoss from Ireland by a head for second place.

Then more roars went up as the objection sign flashed on the totalisator board. The announcer said that the rider of Sailors' Guide, Howard Grant, claimed that Tudor Era crowded his horse on the first turn. It was the first foul claim in the history of the 7-year-old International, called the Olympics of horse racing.

Bill Harmatz, an American jockey along with Grant, was the rider on Tudor Era.

Moving pictures of the race, in which tremendous interest had been generated by the appearance of Ballymoss and two Russian horses, were studied by the stewards for 20 minutes. There were cheers and jeers when the number nine of Tudor Era came down to second place, and number 5, Sailor's Guide, went onto the board showing him the winner on a disqualification.

Zaryad Is Last

Garnir, winner of the Moscow Derby, finished sixth, while the other Soviet horse, Zaryad, played a Silky Sullivan and came in last. Zaryad, however, was left at the post in the walkup start, and never had a chance to try and set a pace for his stablemate.

It was California's Silky Sullivan who was a West Coast sensation with his come from behind rushes, but when the chips were down in the Kentucky Derby, he wasn't anywhere among the leaders.

Ironically, it was announced before the race the ultimate winner, owned by A. C. Dibb and his son Keith, Melbourne wool merchants, was to be sold for $50,000. The buyer, Dr. Leon Levi of Philadelphia and a director of the Atlantic City, N. J. track, was to complete the deal after the race if Sailor's Guide came out second.

Win Worth $70,000

Sailor's Guide came out winner to the tune of $70,000, while Tudor Era's owner, Mrs. Herbert Herff of Memphis, Tenn., and Palm Beach, Fla., had to settle for second money of $15,000.

Ballymoss, champion of Europe, was the favorite at odds of $1.10 to $1, and is owned by John McShain of Philadelphia. He will retire to the stud in England.

Tudor Era's time for the mile and one half on the grass course was 2:33 1-5, compared with the International record of 2:30 4-5, set by England's Wilwyn in the inaugural in 1952.

Sailor's Guide paid a liberal $18.60, $8.00 and $4.00. Tudor Era, a 6 to 1 shot, was $7.60 and $4.00. Ballymoss was $2.40 to show.

INTERNATIONAL FINISH—Sailor's Guide (5) and Ballymoss (7) trail Tudor Era to the wire at the finish of the seventh $100,000 Washington, D. C. International yesterday at Laurel. At right is Ireland's Tharp (4). Jockey Howard Grant, aboard Sailor's Guide, claimed a foul and Sailor's Guide was declared the winner, paying $18.60. Tudor Era was second, Ballymoss, third, and Tharp, fourth. (AP Photofax)

Start good from flag for all but Zaryad. Won ridden out. Tudor Era broke alertly and was taken under stout restraint, set the pace under excellent rating and, after dropping in on Sailor's Guide entering the stretch the final time, drew clear under intermittent urging. He was disqualified for interfering with Sailor's Guide and was placed second. Sailor's Guide was in a rather precarious position along the hedge during much of the race, was taken up sharply entering the stretch while endeavoring to move through on the leader, then gave way gradually. Grant's claim of foul against the winner for interference was allowed. Ballymoss raced in contention, was bothered when Orsini 2nd hit him just before completing a turn of the course, recovered well to remain a factor until nearing the stretch, then drifted wide and failed to respond. Tharp appeared full of run while under rating early but lacked the needed response when set down. Orsini 2nd was placed on the outside after kicking repeatedly at the starting point, improved his position steadily until hitting the hedge after about seven furlongs, recovered to be prominent until the final quarter and faltered. Garnier weakened after having been prominent. Escribano was crowded after seven furlongs. Clem failed to recover after Ballymoss was knocked into him at the clubhouse turn. Revoque showed nothing. Zaryad broke far behind the field and was outrun. The start was delayed for considerable time, largely to Zaryad breaking through.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—"Requiem for a Nun," the only stage play ever written by Nobel Prize winner William Faulkner, has been bought by Buddy Adler before it goes on Broadway in January. In fact, Buddy negotiated with the Theatre Guild for the film rights on his recent trip to New York.

Faulkner actually wrote the play for Ruth Ford (Mrs. Zachary Scott) whom he has known since her childhood. She and Zach starred in the London production and also will appear in New York. There's a big chance Ruth will be in the film version for 20th Century-Fox.

"Requiem for a Nun" is a figurative title and has nothing to do with organized religion. It's a morality play dealing with the sordid life of its heroine who, through the murder of her child by a servant, realizes she is to blame for the tragedy.

After all the romantic upsets there have been in Mickey Rooney's life I think it's fine that he's developing such a good relationship with his son, Teddy, who is also Martha Vicker's boy. Mickey has just cast Teddy in "Cross My Heart," the touching story of Tay Garnett's in which Mickey plays an immigrant who becomes so disfigured that he has to become a clown in order to hide his terrible face. The person most "scared" by his looks is his little son. And who could do this better than Teddy?

Movie historians tell us that "The Great Train Robbery" was the very first motion picture ever made, and from time to time we get word that it's to be brought to the screen again, but always there is litigation and trouble.

Now, according to actor John Merrick, he has settled all the difficulties. He says: "After six weeks research in Council Bluffs and Omaha from an actual 1920 incident which netted juvenile bandits 8 million dollars, largest haul in railroading history, we are almost ready to go." Merrick tells me that pioneer producer Nat Holt relinquished the title to him, and he's now in negotiation with Barney Girard, his associate in this venture. They recently worked together in Playhouse 90's "Four Women in Black" starring Helen Hayes.

Another "hi baby" telegram from Bob Mitchum still in Durango, Mexico. Says Bob: "This might interest you. Director Bob Parrish and I found beautiful blonde Los Angeles girl Judy Marsh singing in Mexico City nightclub, and signed her for top role in 'Wonderful Country.'

"Judy belts a great song and has been singing around Hollywood nightclubs last three years, and was original 'Blue Foot Sue' with Don Novis in Disneyland Revue, but she couldn't get inside studios.

"We are signing her for other pictures, and she's going to be big, baby. Julie London sends her love and we will see you by Christmas. Love, Bob."

Says Raoul Levy, here to discuss the Brigitte Bardot - Frank Sinatra picture "Night in Paris:" "Brigitte has more picture offers than she could ever make right in France. Besides she's beautiful, she's engaged and she doesn't need the money. So, if Frankie will come to Paris it is tres bien by Mademoiselle Bardot. If not, it's tres nothing as far as she is concerned."

Now you take Frankie—he's not beautiful, he's not engaged (as far as anyone knows)—and he doesn't need the money, either. Like Brigitte, he also has more picture offers than he could ever make right in the U.S.A. So there!

POPE APPOINTS SUCCESSOR

THE LAMP IN THE WINDOW

Symbolic of the earlier days of American pharmacy was the lighted lamp in the drugstore window. All through the night it glowed, a beacon of hope, a symbol of unselfish service.

Although the historic lamp is now practically extinct, the fundamentals of pharmaceutical practice have changed but little. The responsibilities of the pharmacist are greater today than ever before — he is a vital factor in medical care.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—"Requiem for a Nun," the only stage play ever written by Nobel Prize winner William Faulkner, has been bought by Buddy Adler before it goes on Broadway in January. In fact, Buddy negotiated with the Theatre Guild for the film rights on his recent trip to New York.

Faulkner actually wrote the play for Ruth Ford (Mrs. Zachary Scott) whom he has known since her childhood. She and Zach starred in the London production and also will appear in New York. There's a big chance Ruth will be in the film version for 20th Century-Fox.

"Requiem for a Nun" is a figurative title and has nothing to do with organized religion. It's a morality play dealing with the sordid life of its heroine who, through the murder of her child by a servant, realizes she is to blame for the tragedy.

After all the romantic upsets there have been in Mickey Rooney's life I think it's fine that he's developing such a good relationship with his son, Teddy, who is also Martha Vicker's boy.

Mickey has just cast Teddy in "Cross My Heart," the touching story of Tay Garnett's in which Mickey plays an immigrant who becomes so disfigured that he has to become a clown in order to hide his terrible face. The person most "scared" by his looks is his little son. And who could do this better than Teddy?

Movie historians tell us that "The Great Train Robbery" was the very first motion picture ever made, and from time to time we get word that it's to be brought to the screen again, but always there is litigation and trouble.

Now, according to actor John Merrick, he has settled all the difficulties. He says: "After six weeks research in Council Bluffs and Omaha from an actual 1920 incident which netted juvenile bandits 8 million dollars, largest haul in railroading history, we are almost ready to go." Merrick tells me that pioneer producer Nat Holt relinquished the title to him, and he's now in negotiation with Barney Girard, his associate in this venture. They recently worked together in Playhouse 90's "Four Women in Black" starring Helen Hayes.

Another "hi baby" telegram from Bob Mitchum still in Durango, Mexico. Says Bob: "This might interest you. Director Bob Parrish and I found beautiful blonde Los Angeles girl Judy Marsh singing in Mexico City nightclub, and signed her for top role in 'Wonderful Country.'

"Judy belts a great song and has been singing around Hollywood nightclubs last three years, and was original 'Blue Foot Sue' with Don Novis in Disneyland Revue, but she couldn't get inside studios.

"We are signing her for other pictures, and she's going to be big, baby. Julie London sends her love and we will see you by Christmas. Love, Bob."

Says Raoul Levy, here to discuss the Brigitte Bardot - Frank Sinatra picture "Night in Paris:" "Brigitte has more picture offers than she could ever make right in France. Besides she's beautiful, she's engaged and she doesn't need the money. So, if Frankie will come to Paris it is tres bien by Mademoiselle Bardot. If not, it's tres nothing as far as she is concerned."

Now you take Frankie—he's not beautiful, he's not engaged (as far as anyone knows)—and he doesn't need the money, either. Like Brigitte, he also has more picture offers than he could ever make right in the U.S.A. So there!

POPE APPOINTS SUCCESSOR

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII Tuesday appointed Mgsr. Giovanni Urbani, present bishop of Verona, to succeed him as patriarch of Venice. The important post was left vacant by Pope John when he was elected pontiff last Oct. 28.

About nine per cent of juvenile delinquents are mentally deficient.

THE LAMP IN THE WINDOW

Symbolic of the earlier days of American pharmacy was the lighted lamp in the drugstore window. All through the night it glowed, a beacon of hope, a symbol of unselfish service.

Although the historic lamp is now practically extinct, the fundamentals of pharmaceutical practice have changed but little. The responsibilities of the pharmacist are greater today than ever before — he is a vital factor in medical care.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my neighbors, relatives and friends who were so kind to me following the death of my beloved husband, Hexi D. Walker. I especially wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and cards and those who donated the use of their automobiles and those who in any other way assisted.
His wife: Mrs. H. D. Walker

We wish to thank all our neighbors and friends who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our husband, father, and son, Clarence J. Shea. We also want to thank Rev. Edward A. Godsey, those who sent floral tributes, pallbearers and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral.
Wife—Mrs. Mary Lou Shea, Karen and Susan—daughters, Mrs. Pearl Shea—mother.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. Irene G. King, who passed away November 12, 1948.
Enshrined within our memory
Are fondest thoughts of you.
Your kindly eyes—your loving smile
Your heart so fond and true.
And time will never, never dim
Our inmost hearts' regrets,
At loss of you, dear mother,
And we never will forget!
Wilma, Wilbur and Billy

In loving memory of wife and mother who passed away Nov. 12, 1951.
Loving memories never die
As years roll on and days go by
In our hearts a memory is kept
Of the one we loved and will never forget.
Husband—Mr. M. M. Smiley and children

In loving memory of our mother and father, Mrs. Mary C. Twigg, who passed away Nov. 11, 1945 and William Twigg, Oct. 17, 1955.
God knows how much we miss them,
Loving thoughts will ever wander,
To the spot where they are laid.
Sadly missed by daughters

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my neighbors, relatives and friends who were so kind to me following the death of my beloved husband, Heyl D. Walker. I especially wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and cards and those who donated the use of their automobiles and those who in any other way assisted.

His wife: Mrs. H. D. Walker

We wish to thank all our neighbors and friends who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our husband, father, and son, Clarence J. Shea. We also want to thank Rev. Edward A. Godsey, those who sent floral tributes, pallbearers and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

Wife—Mrs. Mary Lou Shea, Karen and Susan—daughters, Mrs. Pearl Shea—mother.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. Irene G. King, who passed away November 12, 1948.

Enshrined within our memory
Are fondest thoughts of you.
Your kindly eyes—your loving smile
Your heart so fond and true.
And time will never, never dim
Our inmost hearts' regrets,
At loss of you, dear mother,
And we never will forget!

Wilma, Wilbur and Billy

In loving memory of wife and mother who passed away Nov. 12, 1951.

Loving memories never die
As years roll on and days go by
In our hearts a memory is kept
Of the one we loved and will never forget.

Husband—Mr. M. M. Smiley and children

In loving memory of our mother and father, Mrs. Mary C. Twigg, who passed away Nov. 11, 1945 and William Twigg, Oct. 17, 1955.

God knows how much we miss them,
Never shall their memory fail,
Loving thoughts will ever wander,
To the spot where they are laid.

JENNIE AND ALICE

REALIZING that a sixty dollar a month apartment costs you two dollars every day it is unrented doesn't it seem foolish not to be running a for rent ad at the monthly rate that only runs thirty-seven cents a day and would probably rent the apartment.

ALL OF WHICH NEW SECTIONS DEAL WITH THE OPERATION, CONTROL AND MAINTENANCE OF THE CITY DUMP AND PROVIDE FOR A PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION OF THE SAME."

WHEREAS, the City of Cumberland is now expending the sum of approximately Seventy-two Thousand Dollars ($72,000.00) per year in connection with its program of garbage collection and the maintenance and operation of the City Dump; and

WHEREAS, the City Dump has not only been used for the benefit and advantage of the residents of the City of Cumberland but has also been used by approximately twenty-five hundred families not living within the City Limits; and

WHEREAS, the City of Cumberland has paid the entire cost of the operation and maintenance of the City Dump as well as the cost of the land upon which the same is located; and

WHEREAS, the area now used as a Dump is almost completely filled and it is within the foreseeable future that the City will be required, at a large cost and expense, to acquire another location to be used as a Dump, or construct an incinerator and;

WHEREAS, it is felt to be within the best interests of the residents of the City of Cumberland to enact these regulations and provisions, all of which deal with the operation, maintenance and control of the City Dump, and charges to be made therefor, for the use of the same by non-residents of the City of Cumberland and a penalty for the violation of the terms and provisions of this Ordinance.

NOW, THEREFORE:

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, That Sections 7 through 14, inclusive, are hereby enacted and added to Chapter 23 of the Ordinances of the City of Cumberland (Everstine's 1950 Edition), titled "Street Cleaning and Garbage Removal," which new sections shall read as follows:

"7. HOURS. The City Dump will be open for use between the hours of 9 a. m., to 4:30 p. m., Mondays through Friday, and from 9 a. m., to 12 noon on Saturdays. The Dump will be closed on Sundays and may be closed at any time upon Order of the Commissioner of Streets and Public Property.

"8. USE OF DUMP BY RESIDENTS. (a) No resident of the City of Cumberland shall use said Dump except during the hours in which the same is open. (b) Residents desiring to use said Dump on a regular basis for a period not to exceed one (1) year shall obtain a Permit from the City Engineer's office. (c) Residents desirous of using said Dump on an intermittent basis shall obtain a Permit from the attendant employee of the City at said Dump. (d) Residents shall pay such fees for permits to use the City Dump as hereinafter provided.

"9. COMMERCIAL HAULERS—RESIDENT CUSTOMERS. No commercial hauler or contractor engaged in the removal of garbage or other materials, provided in Section 1 of this Chapter, from residences, business establishments or factories located within the City Limits of Cumberland shall use said Dump until he has first obtained a Permit from the City Engineer's office and paid the fee therefor, as hereinafter provided, and has executed an affidavit to the effect that he will not haul any garbage or other materials to said Dump for any person, firm or corporation located outside of the City Limits of Cumberland.

"10. COMMERCIAL HAULERS — NON-RESIDENT CUSTOMERS. No commercial hauler or contractor engaged in the removal of garbage or other materials, provided in Section 1 of this Chapter, from residences, business establishments or factories located outside the City Limits of Cumberland shall use said Dump until he has first obtained a Permit from the City Engineer's office and paid the fee therefor, as hereinafter provided, and has executed an affidavit, to which there is attached a list of all of the customers served by such commercial hauler, which affidavit shall be to the effect that said list is true and correct and that he will not haul any garbage or other material to said Dump for any other person, firm or corporation located outside the City Limits of Cumberland until he has notified the City Engineer's office as to the name of such customer and paid the fee therefor as hereinafter provided. The list of customers to be submitted to the City Engineer shall not only contain the name of each customer but the street address of the same, if any, and if no street address, some description of the address of the customer so that the City will have a means of contacting each such customer at their respective addresses, residences, businesses or factories.

"11. FEES. (a) Residents. One Dollar ($1.00) per year for all licenses issued in pursuance of subsection (b) of Section 8 of this Chapter. There shall be no fees charged for permits issued in accordance with subsection (c) of Section 8 of this Chapter.

(b) Commercial Haulers — Resident Customers. One Dollar ($1.00) per year.

(c) Commercial Haulers — Non-Resident Customers. Ten Dollars ($10.00) per year per customer, except as hereinafter set forth.

(d) The City Engineer, upon approval of the Commissioner of Streets and Public Property, shall have the right to raise any fees for any non-resident person, firm or corporation when, in the opinion of said City Engineer and Commissioner of Streets and Public Property the amount of garbage or other materials to be placed on said Dump justifies an increased fee.

(e) For the purposes of fees, the term "Year" shall mean calendar year, with the exception that the first year shall be for a period from November 15, 1958, to December 31, 1959. There shall be no apportionment for fractional periods and no refunds of any fees paid shall be made, unless the same are paid through error.

(f) All fees provided for herein shall be paid yearly in advance.

"12. SALVAGE AND TRESPASSING. No person shall enter upon the premises of said City Dump other than the employee or employees of the City of Cumberland assigned to operate said Dump, or other City Employees authorized to be on said premises or other persons lawfully authorized to use said Dump, unless they are the holders of a Permit issued by the City of Cumberland; and no person shall remove any material from said Dump unless duly authorized by the City Engineer and upon the approval of the Commissioner of Streets and Public Property, unless such person is an employee of the person, firm or corporation having the salvage rights at said Dump under and by virtue of a contract with the Mayor and City Council.

"13. RULES AND REGULATIONS. The Commissioner of Streets and Public Property may make any rule or regulations that may be desirable for the maintenance, operation and control of said City Dump. However, none of the same shall conflict with any of the terms and provisions of this Chapter.

"14. FINES. (a) Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of Sections 7 to 14, inclusive of this Chapter, shall, upon arrest and conviction thereof, be fined not less than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) nor more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) and, in default thereof, shall be committed to the City Jail or County Jail for not less than one (1) day nor more than thirty (30) days.

(b) The City Police Magistrate, upon any conviction for any violation of this Chapter, shall not have the power to suspend or reduce the fine provided for."

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That if any part or parts of this Ordinance are for any reason held invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction in the premises, such decision shall not affect in any manner whatsoever the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance.

SECTION 3. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That this Ordinance shall take effect November 15, 1958.

Passed this 10th day of November, 1958.

Industrial Stocks Reach Another Record High

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks continued their headlong advance with individual gains running to 2 points or more in the aircrafts, chemicals, shipbuilders, steels, oils, drugs and rails.

The rise, adding more than $2 billion to the value of all listed shares, lifted industrials to an all-time high, rails to their best in more than a year and utilities to their highest average since 1930.

It was accomplished on volume of 4,040,000 shares, compared with 3,750,000 on Monday.

There were top grade leaders. Lockheed was a late feature with a rise of nearly 6 points on a two-for-one stock split proposal. Rohr Aircraft, with a three-for-two split proposal to help it, rose over 2 points. General Dynamics was nearly 2 higher.

Shipbuilding, a field in which General Dynamics is a factor also, had gains of well over a point in Bath Iron and New York Shipbuilding.

DuPont rose 3 and Eastman Kodak 3¼ in the chemicals. Drug stocks continued in demand with Allied Laboratories up 2 points, American Home Products and Merck each up around 1½ points.

ORDINANCE NO. 2098

AN ORDINANCE OF THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE TO ADD SECTIONS 7 THROUGH 14 TO CHAPTER 24 OF THE ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND (EVERSTINE'S 1950 EDITION), TITLED 'STREET CLEANING AND GARBAGE REMOVAL,' ALL OF WHICH NEW SECTIONS DEAL WITH THE OPERATION, CONTROL AND MAINTENANCE OF THE CITY DUMP AND PROVIDE FOR A PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION OF THE SAME."

WHEREAS, the City of Cumberland is now expending the sum of approximately Seventy-two Thousand Dollars ($72,000.00) per year in connection with its program of garbage collection and the maintenance and operation of the City Dump; and

WHEREAS, the City Dump has not only been used for the benefit and advantage of the residents of the City of Cumberland but has also been used by approximately twenty-five hundred families not living within the City Limits; and

WHEREAS, the City of Cumberland has paid the entire cost of the operation and maintenance of the City Dump as well as the cost of the land upon which the same is located; and

WHEREAS, the area now used as a Dump is almost completely filled and it is within the foreseeable future that the City will be required, at a large cost and expense, to acquire another location to be used as a Dump, or construct an incinerator and;

WHEREAS, it is felt to be within the best interests of the residents of the City of Cumberland to enact these regulations and provisions, all of which deal with the operation, maintenance and control of the City Dump, and charges to be made therefor, for the use of the same by non-residents of the City of Cumberland and a penalty for the violation of the terms and provisions of this Ordinance.

NOW, THEREFORE:

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, That Sections 7 through 14, inclusive, are hereby enacted and added to Chapter 23 of the Ordinances of the City of Cumberland (Everstine's 1950 Edition), titled "Street Cleaning and Garbage Removal," which new sections shall read as follows:

"7. HOURS. The City Dump will be open for use between the hours of 9 a. m., to 4:30 p. m., Mondays through Friday, and from 9 a. m., to 12 noon on Saturdays. The Dump will be closed on Sundays and may be closed at any time upon Order of the Commissioner of Streets and Public Property.

"8. USE OF DUMP BY RESIDENTS. (a) No resident of the City of Cumberland shall use said Dump except during the hours in which the same is open. (b) Residents desiring to use said Dump on a regular basis for a period not to exceed one (1) year shall obtain a Permit from the City Engineer's office. (c) Residents desirous of using said Dump on an intermittent basis shall obtain a Permit from the attendant employee of the City at said Dump. (d) Residents shall pay such fees for permits to use the City Dump as hereinafter provided.

"9. COMMERCIAL HAULERS—RESIDENT CUSTOMERS. No commercial hauler or contractor engaged in the removal of garbage or other materials, provided in Section 1 of this Chapter, from residences, business establishments or factories located within the City Limits of Cumberland shall use said Dump until he has first obtained a Permit from the City Engineer's office and paid the fee therefor, as hereinafter provided, and has executed an affidavit to the effect that he will not haul any garbage or other materials to said Dump for any person, firm or corporation located outside of the City Limits of Cumberland.

"10. COMMERCIAL HAULERS — NON-RESIDENT CUSTOMERS. No commercial hauler or contractor engaged in the removal of garbage or other materials, provided in Section 1 of this Chapter, from residences, business establishments or factories located outside the City Limits of Cumberland shall use said Dump until he has first obtained a Permit from the City Engineer's office and paid the fee therefor, as hereinafter provided, and has executed an affidavit, to which there is attached a list of all of the customers served by such commercial hauler, which affidavit shall be to the effect that said list is true and correct and that he will not haul any garbage or other material to said Dump for any other person, firm or corporation located outside the City Limits of Cumberland until he has notified the City Engineer's office as to the name of such customer and paid the fee therefor as hereinafter provided. The list of customers to be submitted to the City Engineer shall not only contain the name of each customer but the street address of the same, if any, and if no street address, some description of the address of the customer so that the City will have a means of contacting each such customer at their respective addresses, residences, businesses or factories.

"11. FEES. (a) Residents. One Dollar ($1.00) per year for all licenses issued in pursuance of subsection (b) of Section 8 of this Chapter. There shall be no fees charged for permits issued in accordance with subsection (c) of Section 8 of this Chapter.

(b) Commercial Haulers — Resident Customers. One Dollar ($1.00) per year.

(c) Commercial Haulers — Non-Resident Customers. Ten Dollars ($10.00) per year per customer, except as hereinafter set forth.

(d) The City Engineer, upon approval of the Commissioner of Streets and Public Property, shall have the right to raise any fees for any non-resident person, firm or corporation when, in the opinion of said City Engineer and Commissioner of Streets and Public Property the amount of garbage or other materials to be placed on said Dump justifies an increased fee.

(e) For the purposes of fees, the term "Year" shall mean calendar year, with the exception that the first year shall be for a period from November 15, 1958, to December 31, 1959. There shall be no apportionment for fractional periods and no refunds of any fees paid shall be made, unless the same are paid through error.

(f) All fees provided for herein shall be paid yearly in advance.

"12. SALVAGE AND TRESPASSING. No person shall enter upon the premises of said City Dump other than the employee or employees of the City of Cumberland assigned to operate said Dump, or other City Employees authorized to be on said premises or other persons lawfully authorized to use said Dump, unless they are the holders of a Permit issued by the City of Cumberland; and no person shall remove any material from said Dump unless duly authorized by the City Engineer and upon the approval of the Commissioner of Streets and Public Property, unless such person is an employee of the person, firm or corporation having the salvage rights at said Dump under and by virtue of a contract with the Mayor and City Council.

"13. RULES AND REGULATIONS. The Commissioner of Streets and Public Property may make any rule or regulations that may be desirable for the maintenance, operation and control of said City Dump. However, none of the same shall conflict with any of the terms and provisions of this Chapter.

"14. FINES. (a) Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of Sections 7 to 14, inclusive of this Chapter, shall, upon arrest and conviction thereof, be fined not less than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) nor more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) and, in default thereof, shall be committed to the City Jail or County Jail for not less than one (1) day nor more than thirty (30) days.

(b) The City Police Magistrate, upon any conviction for any violation of this Chapter, shall not have the power to suspend or reduce the fine provided for."

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That if any part or parts of this Ordinance are for any reason held invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction in the premises, such decision shall not affect in any manner whatsoever the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance.

SECTION 3. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That this Ordinance shall take effect November 15, 1958.

Passed this 10th day of November, 1958.

Industrial Stocks Reach Another Record High

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks continued their headlong advance with individual gains running to 2 points or more in the aircrafts, chemicals, shipbuilders, steels, oils, drugs and rails.

The rise, adding more than $2 billion to the value of all listed shares, lifted industrials to an all-time high, rails to their best in more than a year and utilities to their highest average since 1930.

It was accomplished on volume of 4,040,000 shares, compared with 3,750,000 on Monday.

There were top grade leaders. Lockheed was a late feature with a rise of nearly 6 points on a two-for-one stock split proposal. Rohr Aircraft, with a three-for-two split proposal to help it, rose over 2 points. General Dynamics was nearly 2 higher.

Shipbuilding, a field in which General Dynamics is a factor also, had gains of well over a point in Bath Iron and New York Shipbuilding.

American Telephone, Monday's big feature on a rise of 4 points, touched its highest level since 1930 at the opening and then backed off to close unchanged.

DuPont rose 3 and Eastman Kodak 3¼ in the chemicals. Drug stocks continued in demand with Allied Laboratories up 2 points, American Home Products and Merck each up around 1½ points.

Checker Motors climbed nearly 2 as the company announced it will unveil its new passenger car next month. Elsewhere, Mack Truck rose almost 3.

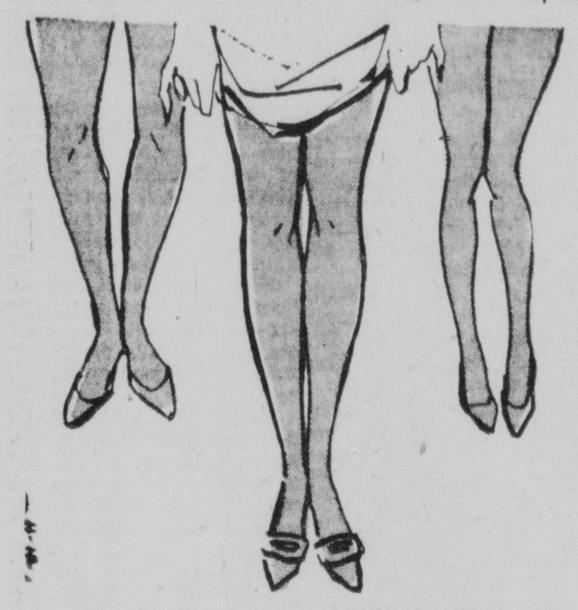
THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Don't go away—I KNOW I hid that five dollars SOMEWHERE in the house!"



Exercise to correct your individual problem.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Regular Exercise Will Improve Your Legs

Your legs can be beautifully shaped, if you make up your mind to devote a certain amount of time to exercises tailored for your individual problem. The trick is never to miss a day.

It's not the number of exercises you do but how faithful you are at doing them. Some of the best are very simple. Exercise at the same time each day . . . any time except within the hour after you have had a meal. It can be fun if you do your exercising to some snappy music.

Bowed legs or knock-knees make it very difficult to be graceful. Here's a way to overcome each of these problems.

BOWED LEGS. Stand with feet together and knees flexed. Now urge the calves toward each other. Hold, relax, and repeat 25 times. Keep checking throughout on flexation of the knees. Try to carry through on this your regular stance. If you had always stood and walked with a slightly bent knee, your problem would not now be quite so difficult.

KNOCK KNEES. Basically, when knees turn inward, it comes from the same source as the functional bowed leg — a tensed knee joint. The above exercise is equally good for knock-knees.

If you have fatty spots on the inner part of the knees, here's just one more exercise. Sitting in a chair go forward on the right side, so that the right knee is slightly ahead of the left knee. Keeping feet flat on the floor, slap the knees together 20 or 30 times. Now, reverse and do with other knee.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	2 NT.	Pass
3 spades	Pass	5 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of diamonds.

South managed to bring home the apparently impossible contract that an overenthusiastic partner had thrust upon him today.

North, holding 24 points and a balanced hand, properly opened with two no trump and South, with four high card points and a five card suit, made the normal response of three spades. He was willing to pass a three no trump rebid but with only one high card he felt the hand might be more manageable in a suit contract.

North, under the impression that a slam was in the offing, jumped to five spades as an invitation for his partner to proceed with a suitable holding.

This was highly improper, for South's response did not promise any special values and he might readily have had a long spade suit with no high card strength.

If North wished to suggest a slam, he should have done so below the game level by cue bidding in clubs or diamonds. It would then be up to South to make any further try.

West opened the ack of diamonds and declarer was faced with the loss of two clubs and a heart. The outlook was dismal, but not altogether hopeless. He required a very favorable defensive holding in those two suits.

He drew trumps and stripped both hands of diamonds. He then gave up a club trick without cashing the ace. Declarer won the return with the ace of clubs and cashed the A-K of hearts.

At this point, due to the fortunate break in distribution, declarer had the hand in regardless of whether he led a club or a heart. If he led a heart, East would win and, having nothing but hearts would have to give declarer a ruff in one hand and the discard of a club in the other.

If declarer chose to get out with a club, West would win, and must commit suicide by leading a diamond or a club.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures prices closed steady to firm Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed up 7/8 to 1 1/8 cents; corn (old) up 1 cent; (new) up 5/8 to 1 1/8 cents; oats up 1/2 to off 1/8 cent; rye up 3/4 to 1 1/4 cents; soybeans up 1/4 to 7/8 cent.

Nearby wheat contracts showed a relative firmness as commercial and commission houses engaged in mixed trade. The former bought December but sold May and July wheat; the latter bought in July and joined in the selling of May. No export business was reported.

Trade in corn was mostly of a spreading character. The crop ruled fairly steady. Northwest brokers were active on the selling side, putting up new December and March contracts. Locals bought March. Industrial buying was on the increase. Some hedge selling weakened late trade.

There was a firm tone in oats, with December deliveries in fair demand.

WASHINGTON — "Soviet literature seeks new and durable links with contemporary life, the life of the people," blurbs a handout from the Soviet Embassy. "How fascinating it is to trace the development of new relations and characters, and penetrate into the souls of those who are tirelessly creating what is new, who are resolutely forging ahead into the future!"

Okay, Ivan, but what about Pasternak?

The name of the Russian who was forced to turn down the Nobel Prize for Literature and was virtually kicked out of his union for daring to suggest in his notable novel that the U.S.S.R. is somewhat short of Utopia, is nowhere seen in the Red embassy handout.

Instead, we learn what the Soviets really want and admire in the way of literature.

"Was it so long ago as the thirties that young Leonid Leonov produced his novel of the builders of the first paper mill deep in a virgin forest, on the banks of the River Sot?" Rhetorically asks T. Trifonova, writer of the handout. "Or Ilya Ehrenburg wrote his "The Second Day," a novel with a biblical title about the construction of an industrial giant amidst the chaos of the revolutional upheaval? Or Mikhail Sholokhov penned his epic of stormy days on the banks of the quiet Don and the story of how a village embarked upon the unknown path of collectivization?

"In the rural areas where once the hero of 'Quiet Flows the Don' was torn by mental anguish, unable to decide which side to take, what path to follow, there now stand prosperous collective farms that have built electric stations and recreation centers, that raise new varieties of wheat and apples, new breeds of animals and poultry, while the new intelligentsia, both white-haired professors who greeted the first Russian revolution in 1904 as students and young researchers who know the Czarist regime only from books, are working together with the entire people to create artificial cosmic bodies and chemical fertilizers, symphonies and architectural ensembles, paintings and books."

You lost us on the artificial fertilizers, buster.

With astonishing skill, Trifonova goes through a list of the "most popular" Russian novelists without a single allusion to the work of the eminent Russian whose name is on every literate tongue in the wor' '.

"Fighting on the Way," by Galina Nikolaeva, will soon be the No. 1 best seller in the Soviet Union, it seems. "Throughout the novel the authoress shows that while individual mistakes will be corrected and new steps taken to develop the Soviet land, the unity of the Soviet people and the Communist Party will remain unbroken, the socialist foundations of life will remain unshaken, and the features of Communism that are emerging will grow in strength and scope," our boy swears.

Then there are such goodies as Daniil Granin's "After the Wedding," in which the happy groom searches his soul and realizes he owes as much fidelity to the collective as the spouse; "The Zhurbines," the sage of a worker's family, and an announcement about the upcoming meeting of the gutless writers claque that tried to cat-call Pasternak out of the country.

"My short review lacks the festive spirit," Trifonova concludes in a massive understatement, "although it is written on the eve of a big national holiday, the 41st anniversary of the revolution. But I did not want to convey the atmosphere of preparations for a holiday; I merely wanted to tell our friends something of what Soviet literature has accomplished this year. Soviet men and women always make an extra effort in their work as one way of marking their holidays".

Parse that, brother. And what's with Pasternak?

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Regular Exercise Will Improve Your Legs

Your legs can be beautifully shaped, if you make up your mind to devote a certain amount of time to exercises tailored for your individual problem. The trick is never to miss a day.

It's not the number of exercises you do but how faithful you are at doing them. Some of the best are very simple. Exercise at the same time each day . . . any time except within the hour after you have had a meal. It can be fun if you do your exercising to some snappy music.

Bowed legs or knock-knees make it very difficult to be graceful. Here's a way to overcome each of these problems.

BOWED LEGS. Stand with feet together and knees flexed. Now urge the calves toward each other. Hold, relax, and repeat 25 times. Keep checking throughout on flexation of the knees. Try to carry through on this your regular stance. If you had always stood and walked with a slightly bent knee, your problem would not now be quite so difficult.

KNOCK KNEES. Basically, when knees turn inward, it comes from the same source as the functional bowed leg — a tensed knee joint. The above exercise is equally good for knock-knees.

If you have fatty spots on the inner part of the knees, here's just one more exercise. Sitting in a chair go forward on the right side, so that the right knee is slightly ahead of the left knee. Keeping feet flat on the floor, slap the knees together 20 or 30 times. Now, reverse and do with other knee.

TOMORROW: The Problem of Graying Hair.

"DANCE THROUGH A WEEK TO BEAUTY" — Created exclusively for readers of this column, dance steps anyone can do. They bring increased grace and reduced measurements. The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	2 NT.	Pass
3 spades	Pass	5 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of diamonds.

South managed to bring home the apparently impossible contract that an overenthusiastic partner had thrust upon him today.

North, holding 24 points and a balanced hand, properly opened with two no trump and South, with four high card points and a five card suit, made the normal response of three spades. He was willing to pass a three no trump rebid but with only one high card he felt the hand might be more manageable in a suit contract.

North, under the impression that a slam was in the offing, jumped to five spades as an invitation for his partner to proceed with a suitable holding.

This was highly improper, for South's response did not promise any special values and he might readily have had a long spade suit with no high card strength.

If North wished to suggest a slam, he should have done so below the game level by cue bidding in clubs or diamonds. It would then be up to South to make any further try.

West opened the ack of diamonds and declarer was faced with the loss of two clubs and a heart. The outlook was dismal, but not altogether hopeless. He required a very favorable defensive holding in those two suits.

He drew trumps and stripped both hands of diamonds. He then gave up a club trick without cashing the ace. Declarer won the return with the ace of clubs and cashed the A-K of hearts.

At this point, due to the fortunate break in distribution, declarer had the hand in regardless of whether he led a club or a heart. If he led a heart, East would win and, having nothing but hearts would have to give declarer a ruff in one hand and the discard of a club in the other.

If declarer chose to get out with a club, West would win, and must commit suicide by leading a diamond or a club.

Thousands View Veterans Day Parade Here

40th Anniversary Of Armistice Marked

Thousands of persons lined the streets of downtown Cumberland last night to witness the Veterans Day parade held on the 40th anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which brought World War I to an end.

Scheduled for 8:30 p. m., the parade got underway a few minutes ahead of time. The "artillery unit" of Voiture 164, 40 & 8 Society sounded off the approach of the parade. A police cruiser, Marine Corps color guard, and the parade marshal, Thomas F. Conlon followed in line of march.

Among the initial units were the Blue Angels, crack drum and bugle corps of Victory Post 155, American Legion, Westernport, commanded by Lonnie Marsh.

Majorettes And Drill Team

Headquarters and Headquarters, Company C and Company D, 115th Infantry Regiment, Maryland National Guard, were snappy in appearance and they were followed by the Bruce High School band of Westernport. High-stepping majorettes of that high school put on a good show for the parade viewers.

Next in line of march was the Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross, members of which rode in an auto.

The popular drum and bugle corps of Fulton Myers Post 153, American Legion, attired in their colorful uniforms, including orange shirts and white helmets, drew applause from the crowd as they marched along.

The Sixth Infantry Company, USMCR, was precise in its marching. A bevy of beautiful drum majorettes headed the Beall High School band of Frostburg, clad in black and gold uniforms.

Precision-plus was displayed by the drill team of Old Rail Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mt. Savage, as they marched along the route.

Beauty Queens

Local "queens" rode in convertibles. Miss Rosalie Femi, 19, of Braddock Avenue, named Cinderella Pancake II, in a contest sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce, was in the parade as were the two runners-up, Miss Loraine Hornick and Miss Karen Teter, both of Ridgeley.

Miss Billie Snyder, the South End Fair Queen and her attendants, Miss Marcella Adams and Miss Patricia Pahlford, followed.

The bright red and white uniforms of the Fort Hill High School band drew attention of the crowd who cheered to their music. The recruiters of the Army, Navy and Air Force followed.

Also in line of march was the color guard of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, of Ridgeley.

R. T. "Pat" Farrell, World War I veteran who has taken part in many local parades, was marshal of one of the divisions, as was Paul Weisenmiller, commander of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion.

Cheers went up as the Allegany High School band dressed in blue and white marched by. They were followed by members of Cumberland Barracks, World War I Association.

Allegany High School Junior High band also played well and received a hand from the viewers of the parade.

War Dead Remembered

Silence fell over the crowd near City Hall when Taps was blown by Albert Kerns Jr. who was riding on a float sponsored by Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW. The float included a number of white crosses which represented heroes who paid the supreme sacrifice.

The Blue Angels and members of the Fulton Myers Legion Post drum and bugle corps had impromptu concerts following the parade.

William Kline ,veteran of World War I, who lives in Westernport, was attired in the uniform of that day and had his knapsack and canteen and steel helmet as well as the old-time leggings.

Disabled American Veterans and members of the Military Order of the Purple Heart; Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW; Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion; and auxiliary units also took part, as did city officials.

Veterans Day Observed

Only One Demo Victor Can Recall Barnard Win

By ALBERT D. DARBY
News Staff Writer

Two of the four Allegany County Democrats who were elected to public office November 4 were not even alive when the last previous Democratic winner was elected, and a third was just a seven-month-old baby.

Only John J. Rowan, who was elected to the Board of County Commissioners in last week's surprise election, is old enough to remember when Fuller Barnard Jr. was elected state's attorney of Allegany County in 1919. He was the last Democrat to win public office until last week. Mr. Rowan, now 65, was 26 years old at the time of the 1919 Democrat success.

John Tucker Mason, another Democrat, who led the six-man race for county commissioners, was only seven months old at the time of Mr. Barnard's victory. He is now 39.

The other two successful Democrats were not born until years after 1919. William Walsh, who was the leader in the 11-man contest for the six seats in the House of Delegates, is 28 years old. He was not born until nearly 11 years after the 1919 election. Thomas F. Conlon Jr., the other Democrat winner for the House of Delegates, is 34 years old.

Unusual Connection

Mr. Walsh said that his father, former Judge William C. Walsh, was campaign treasurer for Mr. Barnard in that 1919 election success. The two families were still connected in last week's election. Robert E. Barnard Jr., Fuller Barnard's nephew, served as William Walsh's campaign treasurer.

Although generalities are dangerous, it can be stated that in general the Allegany County Democrats ran younger candidates than did the Republicans. The average age of the nine Democrats involved in contests was 43 years. The ten Republicans in the same races averaged slightly over 55 years of age.

In the House of Delegates battle, two of the three youngest Democrats were winners, while the four oldest Republicans won. Thomas N. Berry, at 43, is one year older than Graydon S. Dunlap, who was the oldest of the five Democrat nominees.

The two youngest men in the contest for county commissioners won along with Mr. Rowan, who is approximately the same age as Simeon W. Green, the oldest GOP candidate. Mr. Mason is 39 and William A. Wilson, the lone Republican county commissioner winner, is 44 years old.

Sheriff Edward R. Muir, who won re-election over Howard P. Loughrie, the Democrat, is eight years older than the man he defeated.

Average Age Higher

Md. Baptists Elect Local Minister

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — The Maryland Baptist Union Assn. Tuesday lauded defeated Congressman Brooks Hays of Arkansas for his "Christian statesmanship."

The group passed a resolution stating that "racial prejudice ruined Brooks Hays, who fell victim to the bigotry of men." The lawmaker was praised for his religious beliefs.

Hays, veteran congressman, was defeated in the Nov. 4 election by Dr. Dale Alford.

Segregationists accused Hays of being too moderate on racial issues. Dr. Alford, 42-year-old member of the Little Rock Board of Education, has been the only outspoken segregationist on the board and began his write-in drive about a week before the election.

The Maryland Baptist group, meeting here for their 123d annual convention, voted to send Hays a telegram expressing their sentiments. Hays is president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The association elected officers Tuesday, renaming Elmer F. Ruark of Salisbury, a layman, as president.

Elected vice presidents were The Rev. G. W. Bullard of Gregory Memorial Church, Baltimore, and The Rev. Cornelius Davis of the Second Baptist Church, Cumberland.

The Rev. Roy G. Greshen of Baltimore was elected secretary; Kenneth Hayes of Baltimore, recording secretary, and The Rev. Carlton Myers of Baltimore, renamed assistant recording secretary.

The 150 delegates will continue their meetings through Wednesday.

State Hi-Y Meet Slated Next Month

The annual Hi-Y conference will be held in Cumberland December 5, 6 and 7, marking the first time the sessions have been scheduled here in more than 15 years.

Sponsored by the YMCAs of Maryland and under the supervision of Central Atlantic Council of YMCAs, the conferences are held each year throughout the state.

This year's theme will be "Individuality vs. Conformity," according to officials of the local Central YMCA. Parker Lansdale III, program secretary of Wilmington, Del., YMCA, will be the principal speaker at the three-day session.

More than 300 delegates from YMCAs throughout Maryland plus a group from Millville, N. J., are expected to attend the program.

B. U. Smith, general secretary of Central YMCA here, is in charge of organizing a committee to make arrangements for housing and social activities for the large number of out-of-town delegates. Mr. Smith said last night the committee hopes to place the young people in various private homes throughout Cumberland and vicinity.

Delegations from Cumberland have attended most of the previous conferences held in various locales in Maryland, local YMCA officials stated, since the program was placed on a state-wide basis.

The conference basically is interested in the approach to problems confronting the youth of today coming to grips with world conditions, parents, the social order, their status in life and their acceptance in an adult world.

ABL Fulfills Vital Role, Says Forster

Hercules President Speaks In City

Allegany Ballistics Laboratory is playing an important role in the prevention of future wars, A. E. Forster, president and chairman of the board of Hercules Powder Company said here yesterday.

Mr. Forster spoke at a luncheon meeting of Hercules and Navy officials with area civic leaders at the Fort Cumberland Hotel. Hercules operates ABL for the Naval Bureau of Ordnance.

"We hope the work being done here will make this country strong enough that some of the wars we have had in the past will not be necessary in the future," said Mr. Forster.

He went on to say that some of Allegany Ballistics' developments are now production items being used by the Navy and by the Air Force.

Commander M. O. Slater, chief of the propulsion branch of the Navy Bureau of Ordnance, said ABL is among the top facilities in the nation in the field of advanced solid propellant research and development.

He said the ABL Vanguard is "the hottest rocket in the country right now." ABL Vanguards have been used on the Air Force Moonshot attempts. Ther function is to provide the acceleration necessary to reach "escape velocity"—about 29,000 miles per hour—at which a rocket frees itself of earth's gravity.

Commander Slater said ABL has been a center of inter-service cooperation in its development of the Terrier and Talos Navy missiles, the booster for the Army's Nike missile, and two boosters for the Air Force Snark guided missile.

He said the ABL workers deserve the traditional Navy "well done" for their efforts.

"We hope we have been good neighbors," said Mr. Forster.

Duard H. Little, plant manager at ABL, introduced the speakers. Members of the visiting Hercules-Navy party, besides Mr. Forster and Commander Slater were J. M. Martin, general manager of the explosives department of Hercules; F. M. Hakenjos, manager of the Hercules chemical propulsion division; Lt. Commander E. J. Sheehy, of the Bureau of Ordnance guided missile propulsion section; Ashworth Burslem, Hercules public relations.

The beautified roadside area along U. S. Route 40 just inside the city limits at the Narrows will be extended all the way to the Texaco service station, according to Donald A. Workman, chairman of the civic improvement committee of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

Mr. Workman said that the project, a joint effort of the Jaycees and the City Streets Department, has received considerable favorable comment from persons who have seen the evergreens and grass planted in the landscaped area along the Wills Creek side of U. S. Route 40 from the bridge toward town.

However, there has been some apprehension that the beautified area will not be extended. Some observers have expressed a hope that the improvement might be extended to the high side of the road near the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks.

Second Man Is Arrested For Assault

R. E. Flynn Jr. In County Jail

Robert E. Flynn Jr., was brought to the Allegany County Jail last night from Washington, D. C. to face robbery and assault charges in the beating of an elderly man last week.

Flynn was arrested by Washington police about 3:27 a. m. yesterday at a West 21st Street address and was taken to No. 1 Precinct where he was held for Cumberland authorities.

The youth's father, Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn, obtained special permission from Commissioner of Police Philmore Fleming to make the trip to Washington along with Lt. Raymond R. Johnston to pick up the 22-year-old youth.

The two local officers picked up the youth about 5:15 p. m. yesterday and returned him to Allegany County Jail.

The young man is wanted for questioning in the attack and robbery of Joseph A. McKenzie, 74, of 208 Columbia Street, last Wednesday. Mr. McKenzie remains a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital, where his condition last night was reported "good."

Chief Flynn, noticeably shaken by the ordeal of having to arrest his own son, said, "The people are supposed to be protected on the streets no matter who is involved."

Young Flynn will be taken to the state's attorney's office today for further questioning and action in assault of Mr. McKenzie and two other Cumberland men who were attacked the same night.

Meanwhile, George R. Keller, 23, of 239 Henderson Avenue, who was arrested last Thursday in connection with the same case, is being held in the county jail under $2,500 bond pending action of the next term of the grand jury.

Noisy Midnight Test Shot Was Normal, ABL Says

An unusually noisy test shot at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory rattled windows and shook buildings in Cumberland early today, but the rocket research station reported it was nothing to be alarmed about.

D. H. Little, manager of the plant which Hercules Powder Company operates for the Navy, said the shot didn't work quite according to plan, but that the results were within the normal range of testing.

He said nobody was injured, but that there was some damage to the testing area.

The shot caused a window-rattling blast in the Cumberland area at about 12:25 a. m., and lighted the southern sky for a moment.

Mr. Little said night firing has been common at ABL in recent weeks because construction work has been under way in the testing areas during the day.

He said ABL personnel were not alarmed about the test, as such things are common and normal in rocket research.

One of the Cumberland youths reportedly went to his car, grabbed a shotgun and re-entered the tavern, where the bartender and another man wrested the weapon from him.

The youth involved in the fight fled before State Police arrived, but Trooper Oliver said last night he will continue the investigation.

Thousands View Veterans Day Parade Here

40th Anniversary Of Armistice Marked

Thousands of persons lined the streets of downtown Cumberland last night to witness the Veterans Day parade held on the 40th anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which brought World War I to an end.

City police estimated the throng as one of the largest in recent years. The air was crisp as the six-division parade passed by.

Scheduled for 8:30 p. m., the parade got underway a few minutes ahead of time. The "artillery unit" of Voiture 164, 40 & 8 Society sounded off the approach of the parade. A police cruiser, Marine Corps color guard, and the parade marshal, Thomas F. Conlon followed in line of march.

Among the initial units were the Blue Angels, crack drum and bugle corps of Victory Post 155, American Legion, Westernport, commanded by Lonnie Marsh.

Majorettes And Drill Team

Headquarters and Headquarters, Company C and Company D, 115th Infantry Regiment, Maryland National Guard, were snappy in appearance and they were followed by the Bruce High School band of Westernport. High-stepping majorettes of that high school put on a good show for the parade viewers.

Next in line of march was the Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross, members of which rode in an auto.

The popular drum and bugle corps of Fulton Myers Post 153, American Legion, attired in their colorful uniforms, including orange shirts and white helmets, drew applause from the crowd as they marched along.

The Sixth Infantry Company, USMCR, was precise in its marching. A bevy of beautiful drum majorettes headed the Beall High School band of Frostburg, clad in black and gold uniforms.

Precision-plus was displayed by the drill team of Old Rail Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mt. Savage, as they marched along the route.

Beauty Queens

Local "queens" rode in convertibles. Miss Rosalie Femi, 19, of Braddock Avenue, named Cinderella Pancake II, in a contest sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce, was in the parade as were the two runners-up, Miss Loraine Hornick and Miss Karen Teter, both of Ridgeley.

Miss Billie Snyder, the South End Fair Queen and her attendants, Miss Marcella Adams and Miss Patricia Pafford, followed.

The bright red and white uniforms of the Fort Hill High School band drew attention of the crowd who cheered to their music. The recruiters of the Army, Navy and Air Force followed.

Also in line of march was the color guard of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, of Ridgeley.

R. T. "Pat" Farrell, World War I veteran who has taken part in many local parades, was marshal of one of the divisions, as was Paul Weisenmiller, commander of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion.

Cheers went up as the Allegany High School band dressed in blue and white marched by. They were followed by members of Cumberland Barracks, World War I Association.

Allegany High School Junior High band also played well and received a hand from the viewers of the parade.

War Dead Remembered

Silence fell over the crowd near City Hall when Taps was blown by Albert Kerns Jr. who was riding on a float sponsored by Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW. The float included a number of white crosses which represented heroes who paid the supreme sacrifice.

The Blue Angels and members of the Fulton Myers Legion Post drum and bugle corps had impromptu concerts following the parade.

William Kline ,veteran of World War I, who lives in Westernport, was attired in the uniform of that day and had his knapsack and canteen and steel helmet as well as the old-time leggings.

Disabled American Veterans and members of the Military Order of the Purple Heart; Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW; Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion; and auxiliary units also took part, as did city officials.

Veterans Day Observed

This color guard of the First Battalion, 115th Infantry Regiment, Maryland National Guard, led off one division of Veterans Day parade here last night, which drew several thousand spectators. Police estimated the crowd as the largest in recent years.

Robert E. Flynn Jr., was brought to the Allegany County Jail last night from Washington, D. C. to face robbery and assault charges in the beating of an elderly man last week.

Flynn was arrested by Washington police about 3:27 a. m. yesterday at a West 21st Street address and was taken to No. 1 Precinct where he was held for Cumberland authorities.

The youth's father, Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn, obtained special permission from Commissioner of Police Philmore Fleming to make the trip to Washington along with Lt. Raymond R. Johnston to pick up the 22-year-old youth.

The two local officers picked up the youth about 5:15 p. m. yesterday and returned him to Allegany County Jail.

The young man is wanted for questioning in the attack and robbery of Joseph A. McKenzie, 74, of 208 Columbia Street, last Wednesday. Mr. McKenzie remains a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital, where his condition last night was reported "good."

Chief Flynn, noticeably shaken by the ordeal of having to arrest his own son, said, "The people are supposed to be protected on the streets no matter who is involved."

Young Flynn will be taken to the state's attorney's office today for further questioning and action in assault of Mr. McKenzie and two other Cumberland men who were attacked the same night.

Meanwhile, George R. Keller, 23, of 239 Henderson Avenue, who was arrested last Thursday in connection with the same case, is being held in the county jail under $2,500 bond pending action of the next term of the grand jury.

Noisy Midnight Test Shot Was Normal, ABL Says

An unusually noisy test shot at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory rattled windows and shook buildings in Cumberland early today, but the rocket research station reported it was nothing to be alarmed about.

D. H. Little, manager of the plant which Hercules Powder Company operates for the Navy, said the shot didn't work quite according to plan, but that the results were within the normal range of testing.

He said nobody was injured, but that there was some damage to the testing area.

The shot caused a window-rattling blast in the Cumberland area at about 12:25 a. m., and lighted the southern sky for a moment.

Mr. Little said night firing has been common at ABL in recent weeks because construction work has been under way in the testing areas during the day.

He said ABL personnel were not alarmed about the test, as such things are common and normal in rocket research.

Tavern Fight Nearly Results In Shooting

Five or six young men, at least three of them reportedly from Cumberland, were involved in a fracas at the Dixie Inn Tavern on West Virginia Route 28 last night shortly after 10 o'clock.

Trooper Charles Oliver of the West Virginia State Police detachment in Keyser said the three Cumberland youths were accused by several others of stealing hubcaps from automobiles, and an argument ensued.

One of the Cumberland youths reportedly went to his car, grabbed a shotgun and re-entered the tavern, where the bartender and another man wrested the weapon from him.
